Gasoline Chiefs Meet at White House

REVAMPING OF RATION SETUP UNDER STUDY

Henderson, Ickes, Eastman Join Byrnes In Fuel Discussion Today.

SALES HOLIDAY ENDS

Action Seen as Move To Get Program Improved Before Congress Meets.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—High government officials responsible for gasoline and fuel oil distribution met at the White House today to study proposals for revamping the existing rationing program.

The meeting was called by Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes "because of recent developments affecting the eastern seaboard area."

The most drastic development—a 60-hour gas ban on gasoline sales to some 7,500,000 private motorists in 17 eastern states—ended at 12:01 a. m.

Byrnes called to the White House today Price Administrator Leon Henderson, Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes and Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman, heads of the three agencies responsible for control and distribution of gasoline and fuel oil. They have been asked to submit to Brynes reports indicating (1) in what respects our existing policies and machinery may not be effective, and (2) what remedial action should be taken both for the present and the future.

The White House conference is expected to devote considerable attention to the fuel oil problem, especially as it applies to New England, New York state and other eastern states where a cold wave has heavily taxed already low fuel reserves.

But in most quarters Byrnes' announcement of the meeting was interpreted as the opening of a major drive to get the rationing program as a whole into better shape before the new congress meets.

MOVE OFFICES

Ration Board To Be Located at 58½ North Main.

To provide greater floor space for the accommodation of crowds and to be more centrally located the Richland county war price and rationing board offices will open next Monday at 58½ North Main street.

Announcement of the new location today was made by Chairman Charles Beelman of the county board. The new quarters will house all phases of the rationing set-up including the gasoline panel now occupying offices in the Mohican building.

Moving of equipment will begin when the present offices at 43 North Mulberry street close Thursday evening for the Christmas holiday, remaining closed through the week-end, no office routine being scheduled for Saturday.

GET PRODUCTION AWARDS

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Ohio plants designated to receive the army-navy production award for outstanding war work included Aro Equipment Corp., Bryan; Hercules Motors Corp., Canton; Lima Locomotive Works, shovel and crane division; United States Automatic Corp., Amherst.

Named To Bench

H. H. SCHETTLER

SCHETTLER GETS JUDICIAL POST

Bricker Acts on Request of G. O. P. Committee to Fill Court Vacancy.

Acting on the recommendation of the Richland county Republican executive committee, Gov. John W. Bricker today appointed Atty. Herbert H. Schettler to serve as Mansfield municipal judge until a judge is elected next November.

Named despite a move to obtain the appointment for Atty. Lydon H. Beam, Schettler will succeed Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch who will become Richland county common pleas judge Feb. 9.

Judge Kalbfleisch has resigned, effective Jan. 31, and Schettler will become municipal judge the following day.

Schettler, who has substituted at intervals for Judge Kalbfleisch on the municipal bench, won the G. O. P. committee's endorsement several weeks ago over Beam.

After the committee's letter was forwarded to the governor, other individual recommendations urging the appointment of Beam were received at Gov. Bricker's office, it was learned from Don Power, the governor's secretary.

Richland county native and graduate of Western Reserve Law school, Schettler has practiced law in Mansfield since 1922 and served two terms as city solicitor.

Schettler is associated with R. E. Hutchison and William F. Voegele in law practice.

Judge Kalbfleisch has been on the municipal bench six years and is now half-way through his second four-year term. He was win-

MERCURY DIPS TO RECORD LOW OF NINE BELOW

Temperature Plunges Near Midnight To Set New Low Mark For Year.

RELIEF PROMISED

Weatherman Says It'll Get Warmer Tonight; Light Snow Will Fall.

Mansfielders generally weren't aware of it when frigid waves swept the city last night, tumbling the mercury to nine degrees below zero between 11 p. m. and this morning to establish a record low for the year and a Saturday-Sunday average of only five above zero.

Relief is promised in an official weather forecast of "rising temperature today with light snow by tonight," a bright sun boosting the thermometer to 14 above zero at noon. The highest during the 48-hour period was 19, as compared to a 17-year average of 28 above. Saturday night brought a snowfall of 1.1 inches.

Snow creaking under foot and wheel yesterday and last night kept many from normal Sunday travels and few were out-of-doors when the core of winter's hardest blow thus far reached Mansfield around midnight.

At Cincinnati the mercury skidded from 20 above zero at 4:30 p. m. to zero at 10:30 p. m. yesterday, with an official reading at 4 a. m. today showing five below and at 5:20 a. m. reading seven below in a freakish cold wave.

At Toledo a night reading showed two below but at Cleveland it was two above at midnight. Southern Ohio was blanketed by an eight-inch snowfall, the heaviest in years.

Mansfield streets became more icy with the fresh snow, street department and police traffic officials declaring little could be done about it. No state roads were reported closed but highway department crews today were spreading cinders and sand at peril point.

In eastern states where fuel oil supplies have been diminished or exhausted householders were

IT'LL BE LESS

Taylor Uncertain About Liquor Ration, But It Won't Be Quart.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— State Liquor Director Jacob B. Taylor said today that the amount of liquor to be permitted Ohioans when rationing goes into effect next year has not been determined.

The only retail restriction now in effect limits purchases to one quart per person each day. The new allowance will be considerably under that figure, he said.

Taylor reminded hopeful that state liquor stores would be able to meet the Christmas demand "if customers will be reasonable and don't try to stock up with more than they need."

County's Victory Loan Drive Over Quota With $4,462,900

Over the top and well on the way to striking $4,762,000 total by the last of December, Richland county war bond sales for the current month today had reached $4,462,900.

The December sale, part of a nation-wide Victory loan drive for $9,000,000,000, topped the county goal of $4,450,000 by $12,900 in the first three weeks of the drive. H. G. Brunner, chairman of the Richland county Victory Fund committee, predicted today that bond sales the last two weeks of December would add $300,000 to the fund.

In praising efforts made by the county's 10 banks in behalf of the drive, Brunner also paid tribute to the December war bond sale committee that "helped materially in reaching the goal." The county chairman also pointed out that the goal had been achieved without any special event on the part of the banks which staged no drive in deference to the Pearl

'Don't Let Down Fighters,' Rickenbacker Tells Workers

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK — Captain Eddie Rickenbacker insists that men and women on America's production front not to let their fighting men down.

Speaking on the army hour yesterday, Capt. Rickenbacker told of the faith America's soldiers, sailors and marines on world-wide battlefronts have in the home front. He said that they are stimulated "by an inborn belief that the vast resources of America are being marshalled to support them on the same scale as they give their all on a round-the-clock, round-the-calendar basis."

"Speaking as a private citizen to my fellow citizens," he said, "I plead for additional effort, for all our total effort to the end that we may increase the production of planes, ships, guns, ammunition and supplies that our fighting men must have in greater abundance."

He added that if our combat troops could change places with present war workers "I know that within 30 days we would see our production doubled."

"Sitting here in the comfort of my own home," he said, "on a Sunday afternoon just five days before Christmas, I find it rather difficult to visualize that entirely different world some thousands of miles away in the Pacific from which I have just returned.

"Few Americans who have not been there can comprehend that world in which our armed forces are making the gallant fight for us, for such Sunday afternoons and Christmas."

Retelling the story of his experience of being lost in the Pacific, he said that two weeks after his rescue, he was off on the mission which had almost ended in disaster. He visited New Guinea and Guadalcanal.

"If only you could know what the boys there are doing for us and the future generations—you would find it hard, as I do, to enjoy the comforts of a Sunday afternoon at home," he declared.

Convicted Murderer Uses Ruse To Escape Penitentiary.

BOISE, Ida.—(INS)—Leaving a dummy in his bed to fool guards, Duncan M. Johnston, former Twin Falls, Ida., mayor and convicted murderer, escaped from the state penitentiary late last night, Boise authorities announced today.

Johnston, twice convicted in the sensational 1938 murder of George Olsen, a Salt Lake City jewelry salesman, escaped under cover of a heavy fog.

"We tracked Johnston in fresh snow to about one half mile from the prison where tire treads and his footsteps indicated he had met a waiting car," the penitentiary warden said.

KEEPS PLEDGE

Houston Raises 70 Millions For New Cruiser, Celebrates.

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Frank Knox, Jesse Jones, Sam Rayburn, several admirals and the governor of Texas meet today in a patriotic carnival celebrating this city's $70,000,000 pledge of vengeance for the men of the lost cruiser Houston.

Eight ships will slide down the ways of two shipyards and Secretary of Commerce Jones will present a certificate to Secretary of the Navy Knox that $70,000,000 had been raised to build another cruiser Houston.

The original ship of this name went down in the South Pacific months ago when the Japanese moved into the Netherlands East Indies. In 21 days the citizens of Houston have bought war bonds far more than enough to finance building of another.

FIND BODIES ON FLORIDA COAST

Searchers Discover Remains of Wealthy Man, Companion

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — (INS) — The five-day search for Benjamin J. Brinkman, 55, wealthy Miami winter resident, and George C. Sedano, 49, professional dancer, who sailed on a fishing trip last Tuesday, was ended today with the discovery of their bodies off the Florida coast.

Coastguardsmen found Brinkman's body in a bay near Homestead, about 35 miles south of Miami, and Sedano's body in feathered shoals a mile away. No trace of Brinkman's cabin cruiser in which they set out was found.

State Investigator I. R. Mills declined to say whether foul play was suspected until an autopsy had been held.

Body of the pilot was identified as that of Lt. Lawrence A. Barrett, jr., son of Mrs. L. C. Barret, Beverly Hills, Cal.

TWO FAMILIES ESCAPE BLAZE

West First Street Dwelling Damaged as Flames Start From Overheating.

Two families escaped injury when flames starting from an overheated chimney in near-zero weather of Sunday afternoon destroyed the roof and damaged the second story of a two-family dwelling at 231 West First street.

The double-roofed structure was a mass of flames in the upper part when firemen from Central and No. 3 stations arrived. Capt. L. R. Zimmerman declared that the frozen condition of a water hydrant at the Sturges avenue intersection caused less than a two-minute delay in getting streams of water on the blaze when lines had to be laid from Blymyer street hydrants.

The dwellings were occupied by families of D. S. Ireland and Richard Holloway, the property being owned by William Early. A member of the Ireland family, who is ill, was removed to General hospital by firemen.

Considerable damage was done to first floor interiors by water, fire officials said, when it became necessary to throw huge quantities onto the blaze which had spread through the entire upper

Postoffice Puts On Extra Crew Of 50 For Peak Mails

Anticipating that the peak of the Christmas mailing season would be reached today or Tuesday, Mansfield postoffice officials prepared for the rush by augmenting its ranks today with approximately 50 additional workers in the postal department and delivery service.

All postoffice windows will remain open until 7 p. m. today to accommodate customers and the same closing hour will prevail Tuesday and Wednesday. Windows will close at 6 p. m. Christmas eve.

First class mail handled by the postoffice last week and also postage sales far surpassed records for the corresponding period last year, Postmaster Herman E. Homberger said. More than 16,000 pieces of first class mail passed through the cancelling machine last week than in 1941 when 527,000 pieces were cancelled. Last week's cancellations totalled 543,400.

Postage sales were $3,699 above last year's sales when they amounted to $9,936 against this year's sales of $13,635. The number of one and a half cent stamps sold last week reached 410,000 against 260,000 for the same period last year.

Incoming parcel post was heavy today, the postmaster said, although the number of out-going packages have dwindled considerably since the first of last week.

British Libyan Pursuit Drives Close to Sirte

RAF Bombers Pound Nazi Inland Port At Night Following Heavy Smash By American Aircraft Over France, Bagging 40 Planes.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—A German admission that the situation on the middle Don front was "grave" was circulated today by the German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph bureau according to a Reuter dispatch from Stockholm.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(UP)—The German Afrika Korps is retreating at an average rate of 15 miles a day, front dispatches said today, and British military observers doubted whether Marshal Erwin Rommel now would be able to make a stand anywhere east of Tunisia.

(By Associated Press)

The Red army's winter offensive has gone into its second month with a drive into the snow-covered steppes of the middle Don, half-way south from Voronezh to Rostov, and half-way from Stalingrad to the big Nazi base at Kharkov.

Across the Mediterranean, the British Eighth army reported its pursuit of the Axis army in Libya had carried to the Sultan area, 140 miles west of El Agheila, within 15 miles of Sirte, and only 55 miles from Tripoli.

There were indications that all Tripolitania might be given up by the Axis in an effort to concentrate every available man and gun in the fight for Tunisia. Reuters dispatches from North Africa said the Allies had captured Italians from Tripoli who were trying to join Marshal Walther Nehring's forces in Tunisia. Other Italians from the Tripoli garrison were reported moving to Tunisia by sea.

From Britain's busy bases, apparently strong forces of the RAF showered overnight destruction on Duisberg, Germany's great inland port at the confluence of the Rhine and the Ruhr. The attack followed the deepest daylight foray by American Flying Fortresses and Liberators over France, a raid in which the big United States planes roared through swarms of Germany's best fighters and shot them down to 40 to six.

The new Russian push, which threatened to chop up or roll back the whole German position in the south, is in its sixth day, with 300 communities reported won back under the Red banner and with Russian troops astride the Moscow-Rostov rail line 160 miles north of Rostov.

And on this, the 63rd birthday of Premier Joseph Stalin, the Russian communique reported the onslaught still unchecked.

The communique claimed nearly 1,700 more Nazi dead added to the roll of 28,000 already killed, and more chilled and weary German prisoners joined the 13,500 sent streaming back to the rear during the first five days.

The drive was in two parts, one force thrusting southward from the Voronezh area and the other smashing westward from the upper section of the Don bend.

The Russians kept up their pressure against the Nazi tcehold at Stalingrad and the Nazi lines near Rzhev and Velikie Luki.

The German news agency, DNB reported yesterday the Russians had broken into Velikie Luki, 90 miles from the Latvian frontier,

PLODDING: British Advance In Burma As Japs Bomb Calcutta

(By Associated Press)

NEW DELHI, India — British troops plodding steadily through difficult jungles were reported nearly half way to the strategic Burmese port of Akyab today, but as yet the Japanese had offered no resistance beyond an aerial attack on Calcutta last night.

A British communique said that only a few widely dispersed bombs fell in the Calcutta area and characterized casualties and damage as light. No military installations were hit, the bulletin added.

Two enemy airplanes dropped bombs in the Chittagong area, on the eastern side of the Bay of Bengal, a later communique added, but no damage or casualties were reported.

Yesterday morning RAF Blenheims escorted by fighters bombed the Japanese airdrome at Magwe, on the Irrawaddy river east of Akyab, with "good results" the communique said.

The British troops pushing southward along the eastern side of the Bay of Gengal were reported less than 60 miles from Akyab yesterday after having come approximately 40 miles through swamps and jungles without making contact with the Japanese.

The Japanese reported six Allied planes bombed Rangoon far to the south, and the Chinese said the

WITH THE RED ARMY ON THE STALINGRAD FRONT, Dec. 19 (Delayed) — The liberation of Stalingrad now seems to be only a matter of time.

The remnants of 22 German divisions that once were among the best fighters in the Wehrmacht are trapped in the snow between the Don and Volga rivers and the Red army is slowly hacking them to pieces.

I have known Russian military leaders for six years, and have discussed the war with them in their own language. But never since the beginning of the Soviet-German conflict have I found such supreme confidence among soldiers of all ranks as I found here on a vast, snow-wrapped battlefield that covers approximately 10,000 square miles.

There is no doubt in the mind of any Red army man from com-

MARK PAYMENT OF CHURCH DEBT

Sunday Ceremonies Feature Burning of Final Note at Galion.

GALION—A note burning ceremony featured the program at the Trinity Lutheran church Sunday. The church which was organized here in 1924, paid the last of its church debt last week. Rev. E. H. Albrecht, of Columbus, delivered the morning service and at noon a congregational dinner was held, followed by rehearsal in the afternoon of the children's Christmas program.

In August, 1933, the cornerstone of the present building was laid and the church was dedicated May 19, 1935. Rev. J. J. Allwardt was the first pastor. Rev. J. E. Albrecht served as pastor for 10 years and Rev. Henry Young, the present pastor, came to Galion in 1941.

* * *

GALION — Christmas programs by the Galion churches offered Christmas cheer and solace to Galion citizens Sunday.

At the Peace Lutheran church a candlelight processional opened the program as the members of the choir presented an evening recital of Christmas carols from many lands. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. R. M. Pounder.

Four departments of the Sunday School of the Church of the Nazarene combined to present the church Christmas program Sunday evening. Directing the oral and musical program were Mrs. Donald Marshman, in charge of the beginners' department; Mrs. Clyde Bersinger, primary; Mrs. Andrew Young, juniors; and Ethel Gregg, intermediate.

A church recital, under the direction of Mrs. W. W. Koppe, provided the program at the United Brethern church Sunday evening. Assisting were M. F. Engard, Franklin Craun, and Elwood Christman. Soloists were Betty Long, Mildred Patterson, Mrs. Hazel McKean, Ruth Ulmer, and Franklin Craun. Mrs. John Steel served as organist.

At the First Methodist church both morning and evening services provided the Christmas spirit and setting. At the morning service Dorothy Black as organ soloist and Peggy Smith as piano soloist presented Christmas selections, and in the evening a Cantata, entitled "Prepare Him Room" was presented. Rev. W. N. Robertson read the Christmas story.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC, CANTATAS FEATURE SHELBY SERVICES

SHELBY — Annual Christmas services were held Sunday morning, afternoon and evening, at the Shelby churches. Others are planned during this week in keeping with the season.

"The First Christmas" was presented in song and story Sunday morning at the United Brethren church by the elementary departments of the Sunday school. Those appearing on the program were: Sally Harbaugh, James Miller, Paul Smith, Louise Hollenbaugh, Carol Aumend, Frances Stump, Shirley Coleman, Jean Hart, Billy Perman, Jimmy Smith, Raymond Miller and Allan Milliron.

The evening service was the dramatic cantata, "Good Will To Men," presented under the direction of Miss Jennie Kirkpatrick. The principal parts were taken by Wilburn and Donna Carlson, Virginia Searle, Paul Smith, John Searle, jr., Billy Perman, Bill and Pauline Clark, Chester P. Monn, Marion and Herbert Frank. The choir furnished the music.

A candlelight service was featured at the evening service at the First Church of Christ while special music by the choir was sung at the morning service. Soloists were Noel Galloway, Roy Kirkpatrick, Robert Bartzell, Miss Mildred Phillips, Miss Alice Flickinger, Miss Eloise Lewis and Miss Roseann Kirkpatrick.

The annuail Sunday School Christmas program was given Sunday night at the First Baptist church and First Evangelical and Reformed churches. During the Baptist program, the play, "A Gift for the Christ Child," was dramatized. Those taking part in the Reformed church program were William Hassler, Barbara Hassler, Rev. Carl A. Grimm, the girls' choir and children's departments.

The Lutheran league sang carols at the home of shut-ins Sunday night instead of the regular devotional service. Dr. D. Bruce Young preached on an appropriate Christmas subject at the morning worship hour.

Other appropriate services were held at the Most Pure Heart of Mary, St. Mark's Episcopal, Church of God and Church of Nazarene.

BIG DECLINE

Auto Sales Show Marked Drop In Crawford County.

BUCYRUS — The decline in automobile sales in Crawford county is reflected in the records of titles issued in the clerk of courts office where only 80 titles had been file dto Dec. 15. Titles issued in November numbered 430 and the October figure was 356.

October figures this year as compared with the same month last year showed almost a 50 per cent decrease.

November notation of liens totaled 81 as compared with 223 issued in the same month in 1941, and of liens in November this year totaled 154 as compared with 185 in the same month last year.

DECREE DENIED

ASHLAND—A divorce has been denied in Ashland common pleas court to Mary Elizabeth Morehead in her suit against Charles J. Morehead, the plaintiff having failed to prove the allegations of her petition. Jurge H. E. Culbertson has ruled that the plaintiff is entitled to alimony and has awarded her $3,357 84 in an account in a Greenwich bank, household goods and furniture. The defendant was awarded an automobile, livestock, grain, etc., and $2,500. Both have been restricted to withdrawals of $75 per month in advance with costs of the case to be shared by both.

COUNCIL ELECTS

MILLERSBURG—Advisory Council No. 7 has elected the following officers: George Bowers, chairman; Lawrence Williams, assistant; Mrs. Walter Weimer, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Williams, discussion leader; Walter Weimer, assistant.

CRAWFORD BOND CAMPAIGN GOES FAR OVER GOAL

Fund Stands at $2,129,711 With More To Come; Buyers Names Go To Soldiers.

BUCYRUS — Going over the $1,900,000 goal set for Crawford county in the Victory Fund drive, bond sales continued to pile up today with Saturday figures standing at $2,129,711.

W. A. Blicke has served as general chairman of the fund drive.

Sale of the "E" bonds continued in Crawford county with the December quota of $182,196 still a little short of the goal. Bucyrus has turned in $56,175 in bonds; Crestline, $31,250, and Galion has not reported. Purchasers of the "E" bonds this month will place their names on the Golden book, to be bound and sent to training camps.

* * *

BUCYRUS — Unemployment in Crawford county is on the decline, reflecting a country-wide trend, according to November figures from the office of unemployment compensation.

November payments were 47.1 per cent lower than the October figures with payments of $451.72 made last month.

November payments for unemployment in the state were 32 per cent lower than the previous month.

New claims in the Bucyrus area declined 18.2 per cent. An average of six unemployed persons received payments per week during November.

Swigarts Entertain Ann Hill Chapter Representatives at Fredericktown.

FREDERICKTOWN — The officers of Ann Hill chpater, O. E. S., were entertained at dinner Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Swigart, worthy matron and worthy patron of the Chapter.

The guests were seated at tables with white candles in crystal holders. In the center of each table was a crystal bowl filled with red roses, favors for the guests.

The evening was spent in games, contests and singing Christmas carols. Mr. and Mrs. Swigart were presented with handkerchiefs from the guests.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClelland, Mrs. Ray McGugin, Mrs. G. E. Crute, Mrs. Edward Studer, Mrs. Harold Levering, Mrs. D. W. Goodell, Mrs. F. B. Herendeen, Mrs. W. M. James, Mrs. John Wiggins, Mrs F. G. Briggle, Miss Ruth Zolman, Miss Jane McGugin and J. W. Anders.

COLLECTS $1,000 FOR INJURIES

LEXINGTON — Payment of a $1,000 personal injury claim of Jane A. Thornton of Lexington was authorized today by President Roosevelt who signed bills providing payment of three other similar claims.

The government will pay the Lexington claimant $1,000 because she suffered injuries March 31, 1939, when the truck in which she was riding was hit by a federal soil conservation car near Wellington.

Others who will receive damages as the result of accidents involving government cars or trucks include Dr. and Mrs. J. Scott of Carroll county and Mrs. Bessie Schakett of Columbus.

MARK ANNIVERSARY

LOUDONVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Huffman will observe the golden wedding anniversary Christmas day with a dinner and open house from 2 to 9 p. m. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Peters and Mrs. William Kauffman, both of Loudonville.

This Looks Like Christmas!

"Early birds" wander through piles of newly arrived Christmas trees on New York's Eighth avenue to make their selections as the holiday season gets into full swing, although Christmas brilliance will be somewhat dimmed by official frowns upon outdoor illumination this year.

SCHOOL GIVES YULE PROGRAM

Butler Pupils To Present Music and Playlet Thursday In Auditorium.

BUTLER — The music department pupils in the Butler school will present a Christmas program Thursday at 1:15 p. m., before the schools are dismissed for the holidays. Mrs. Doris Horn, music supervisor, will be in charge of the program.

The high school glee club will open the program with the processional, "Tune Your Hearts to Gladdest Song," and then will sing two carols.

A rhythm band composed of pupils in the first, second, and third grades will play three numbers with Mrs. Kathleen Wilhams, first grade teacher, directing.

Other numbers on the program will include a costume dance, "Dolls of the United Nations," under the direction of Mildred Clark; songs by an a cappella choir of 40 grade pupils; a playlet, "Prompt Delivery," by sixth grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Helen Causey; violin solo by Cecil Mathews, seventh grade pupil; numbers by the high school orchestra, and the high school girls' sextet.

Concluding the program will be a song by the glee club, "During the Watch of Flocks at Night." The entire school will sing carols.

The entertainment in the school auditorium will be open to the public.

RITES TUESDAY

Services Will Be Conducted For Roy M. Beck, 62.

GALION — Roy M. Beck, 62, life-long resident of Galion, died unexpectedly Friday evening. Death was caused by a heart attack.

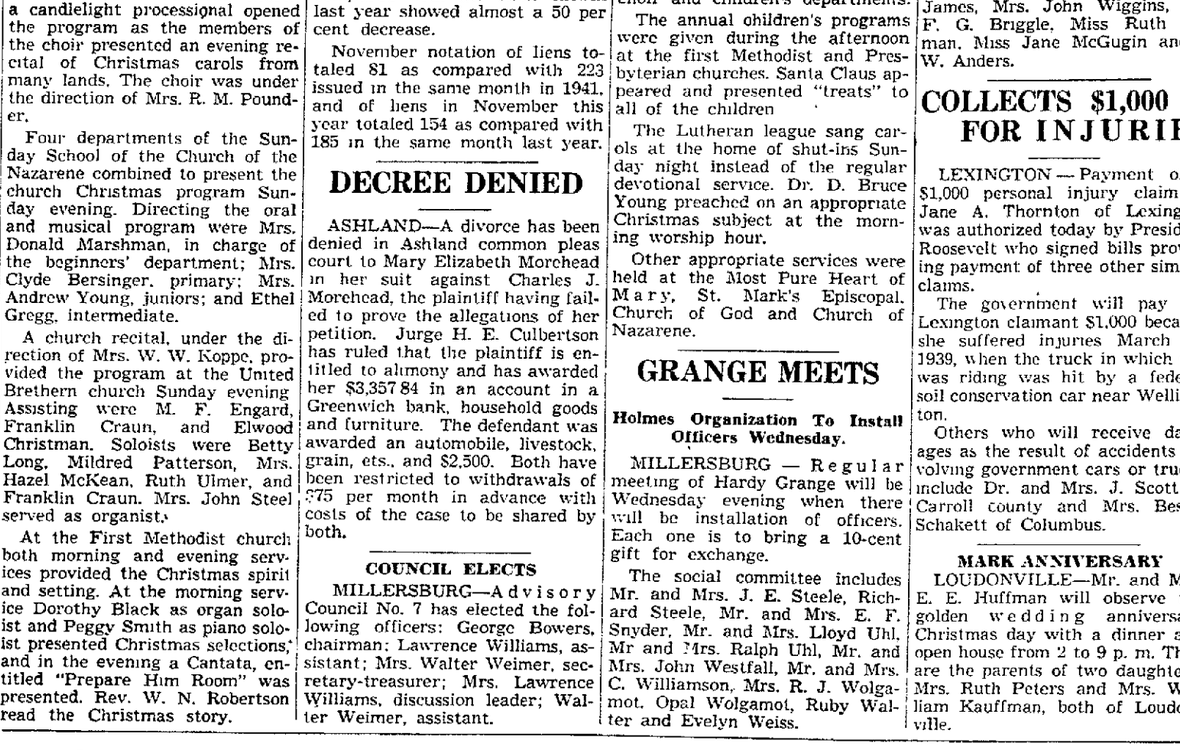
He was born in Galion Aug. 23, 1879. He was married in 1936 to Theresa Noble who survives, with one brother and one sister, Floyd Beck, of Sheldon, Ill., and Mrs. Fred Klopp, of Galion.

He was a member of the St. Patrick's church where funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 9 a. m. Rev. William Kilroran will officiate. Friends may call at the Snyder funeral home.

NEW BABIES AT SHELBY

SHELBY—A daughter was born at Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jackson, Crestline R. D., while Mr. and Mrs. Robert Precht, Shelby, and Mr. and Mrs. William Stroup, Shelby R. D. 3, are the parents of sons.

American Soldiers In Iceland Practice Christmas Carols



Dressed warmly in arctic uniforms, these U. S. soldiers stationed somewhere in Iceland gather round a portable organ and practice singing Christmas carols. Wherever American troops are stationed in the world, similar practice sessions are being held. They sing of peace on earth to men of good will—which excludes Axis troops. This is an official U. S. Army Signal Corps photo. (Central Press.)

Bowling alley operators over the nation are looking askance these days at one, Leon Henderson, price administrator. They wonder why he announced one day a ceiling on bowling prices as of the highest rates charged during September, 1941, the next day announced his resignation as price administrator.

They recall that he had threatened some such action on bowling several months ago, and the fact that he finally decided to go ahead with it just before resigning might prompt them to get the idea this must be some pet whim of his.

And Eddie Linsz of Linsz Recreation in Cleveland, a high official in the national bowling alley operators association, says Henderson promised them he'd give them a chance to tell their side of the story before taking action, and he claims they have been given no such chance. In the meantime he advises alley operators to "sit tight" until they receive official notification.

* * *

No bowler who has taken the time and trouble to inquire into the matter will deny that the cost of alley operation has gone up since September, 1941.

Not only have the prices of pins, and materials used in keeping alleys in top shape, gone up, but pins are few and hard to get, and some of the important materials are not to be had at any price.

* * *

But in some parts of the country, bowling fees have gone up far beyond the bounds of reason, and undoubtedly Henderson had those places in mind in fixing the ceiling.

* * *

Many Mansfield bowlers probably will be surprised that the Henderson ceiling will not affect prices in Mansfield. As a matter of fact, the present 25 cents a line rate could be boosted three cents a line for open bowling and seven cents a match for league bowling under the Henderson ruling.

Just think back a minute. What was the highest price charged for bowling in Mansfield in September, 1941? It was 25 cents, wasn't it?

* * *

Mansfield keglers put up a real kick a year ago when the new owners of the Colony alleys announced the 25 cent rate. Several leagues voted to quit rather than accept the rate, and others threatened to. And the price went back to 20 cents. But the highest price in September was 25 cents the rate which went back in effect this fall.

The keglers a year ago agreed that a lot of money had been spent in modernizing the alleys but they objected to new ownership coming to town and immediately hiking the price.

This year they realize that cost of operation has gone up, and there have been few complaints over the new rate.

* * *

I haven't talked to the Colony management about this. In fact I haven't seen Manager Al Vogel in more than a week. I just thought some of the boys might be surprised to learn that the ceiling price is already in effect here.

(P. S. Coincidence Dept.—The above column was written Saturday night for Monday use. And I ran into Vogel yesterday morning in a west end drug store, told him what I had writen. "Gosh" says he, "maybe you shouldn't have said anything about that." But I convinced him it probably would be all right.)

JACKETS PRACTICE

ATLANTA, Ga.—(INS)—Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets, preparing for their encounter with the University of Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas New Years day, will hold sessions today, tomorrow and Wednesday before taking off a couple days to visit families prior to departing for Dallas.

VOLS REPORT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(INS)—The Sugar Bowl bound University of Tennessee Volunteers—39 strong—reported to Coach John Barnhill today for the first of two-a-day practice sessions that will prepare them for their New Year Day meeting with Tulsa's Golden Hurricane.

DOUBLE DRILLS

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — (INS) — Coach Frank Thomas today ordered two practice drills for his University of Alabama Crimson Tide for its Orange Bowl contest with Boston College New Year's Day.

Ohio Cage Schedule Drops Off

Hoopsters Can't Compete With Holiday Spirit.

By GRANT DILLMAN
(United Press Sports Writer)

OHIO'S infant basketball season, unable to compete with the Christmas spirit for public favor, all but recesses during the coming week with only five contests scheduled.

Two of the five games will be played by unbeaten quintets. Bowling Green, winner of seven straight games, meets once-beaten Heidelberg Wednesday night, and Toledo, which dropped Youngstown from the select list last week, plays DePaul university Saturday.

* * *

Four other Ohio colleges are certain to retain clean slates until after the first of the new year and the start of the intensified basketball campaign. Capital university, with two victories; Mt. Union, three-time victor; and Otterbein and Wittenberg, with one win each, have no contests scheduled this week.

* * *

Bowling Green goes into its game with Heidelberg a clear-cut favorite. The Falcons last week defeated a hard-fighting Michigan Normal team, 64-47, and less than 48 hours later, trimmed Wayne university, 64-41, for their seventh consecutive triumph.

The Gee-Bees were led to both victories by Wyndol Gray, free wheeling freshman forward, who collected 27 points against Michigan Normal and added 25 more against Wayne. Heidelberg has defeated Fenn, loser of three games, and Ashland, which has won two and lost two. The Student Princes lost to Ohio Northern, 49-48 in their only defeat.

In other Ohio games, twice-defeated Muskingum tonight will meet Youngstown whose record was stopped at four straight when Toledo took a high-scoring game, 76-51, Saturday night. Toledo, which now has won five in a row, meets DePaul university Saturday night.

* * *

Wednesday night will see Heidelberg pair off against Akron university which has won three games while losing two. Akron's most recent victory was at the expense of Muskingum, the Zippers winning 36-31. Akron also has defeated Ohio Wesleyan and St. Bonaventure while losing to Niagara and Canisius.

* * *

The week's final game, also scheduled for Wednesday, sees Denison, with an even record of one win and one loss, meeting Ohio Northern whose record includes victories over Bluffton and Heidelberg.

Ohio State's Buckeye's, recovering after a formidable fray with final exams last week, will not resume formal practice until the day after Christmas when they will work out preparatory to their invasion of Rochester, Pittsburgh and University of Kentucky the following week.

The Buckeyes will enter the intensified phase of their schedule without the services of Dante Lavelli, sophomore guard from Hudson, O., who has been ruled ineligible because of scholastic difficulties. Lavelli was an end on Ohio's Big Ten championship football team.

* * *

Western Reserve resumed its winning ways last week, defeating Ohio Wesleyan 73-50 after losing to Syracuse 52-24 three days before. Ohio university ran its string of victories to three in a row by virtue of a 51-37 triumph over an invading Cincinnati university five.

* * *

Capital university, with four holdovers from last year's team which lost only one game, returns to the basketball wars Dec. 29, trying for its third victory of the season against Marietta. Capital last week revenged itself against Denison the only team to defeat the Lutherans last year, by winning 50-47

LYONS COMMISSIONED FIRST LIEUTENANT

NEW ORLEANS —(U.P.)— Ted Lyons, ace Chicago White Sox pitcher, has been assigned to duty as a first lieutenant in the marines at Quantico, Va.

Lyons asked that he be assigned to aviation because "that's the outfit that gets things done and I want to help finish up this war so I can get back to playing ball."

He was sworn in at Chicago last week. His home is in Vinton, La.

FOUR ACE PASSERS APPEAR IN GAME

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— Four ace passers of pro football will be seen in action next Sunday when the National league's All-Stars meet the champion Washington Redskins at Shibe park.

Sammy Baugh will throw them for the Redskins, while the All-Stars will have Cecil Isbell, Green Bay Packers; Sid Luckman, Chicago Bears; and Tommy Thompson, Philadelphia Eagles.

GRIDDERS TRANSFERRED

GREAT LAKES, Ill. —(INS)— The breakup of the Great Lakes football team, hailed by sports writers as the nation's leading service team, was under way today with the transfer of Vic Marino, guard of Ohio State, and Gene Ball, blocking back of Duquesne, to a gunnery school at Norfolk, Va.

COLLINWOOD CAGERS WRITE TO SOLDIERS

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — Once a week, during the regular practice period, the Collinwood high school basketball squad lines up at a table to work out with pen, paper and ink.

Letter-writing seems to have no place in cage practice, but Coach Harry Newman isn't forgetting the boys in the armed forces who made up his teams in other years. Sixty-four letter men are on Collinwood's honor roll to get letters from Newman's squad.

Collinwood plays at Mansfield tomorrow night.

Jack May Face Armstrong

Considered For Bout With Hammerin' Henry.

By JACK MAHON

NEW YORK — (INS) — Is Beau Jack another Henry Armstrong?

That was the $64 question along Jacobs Beach today as the pugilistic prophets reconvened to discuss the amazing rise of the little colored bootblack and his plans for the future.

Before going into this matter, he advised briefly that Promoter Mike Jacobs is seriously considering a bout between Jack and "Shufflin" Henry for Jan. 29. He has every intention of using Armstrong on that date against Ray Robinson or some other worthy opponent. If Ray isn't available, Jack may accept the assignment.

Such a match would afford the best comparison of the one-time triple title-holder and this latest perpetual-motion punching machine who last Friday night, ended a lightweight elimination tournament before it even got under way by knocking out Tippy Larkin of New Jersey in three rounds!

Robinson, originally paired with Armstrong, said he wanted no part of the match because he didn't want to hurt "his old friend, Henry." This statement, exaggerated or otherwise, irked "homicidal" Henry and his manager, George Moore, no end, and they burned up the wires with statements denying there was an brotherly love between the boys and expressing the hope they could soon prove it.

Robinson, interviewed at the fight Friday evening, said he would be happy to accommodate Henry at any time so the match may be made after all.

Mr. Jack, who a year ago had trouble getting club fights here, certainly demonstrated he is the best lightweight around today by flattening Allie Stolz, Newark, and Mr. Larkin in the space of five weeks.

Since these gentlemen shared the No. 1 ranking on the NBA list these performances would seem to establish the Beau as lightweight champion of the world until the NBA, or someone else, can dig up a contender to stand up to him.

Maybe Armstrong has come back. We wouldn't know, on this end of the circuit, but he'd better be ready for a tornado if and when he meets the Beau.

That's a fight we really would love to see. It would provide a human train wreck.

BOSTON BRUINS KEEP HOCKEY LEAD

BOSTON — (U.P.) — The Boston Bruins battled to a 4-4 tie with the Chicago Black Hawks Sunday night but maintained their National league hockey lead by two points over the Toronto Maple Leaf who trounced the New York Rangers, 8-2.

The Detroit Red Wings climbed into third place over the Hawks by virtue of a 4-3 triumph over the Montreal Canadiens.

BULLDOGS GREETED

LOS ANGELES —(INS)—Two-a-day drills for their Rose Bowl encounter with UCLA were on tap for the Georgia Bulldogs, due to arrive in Los Angeles today. An avid crowd of grid fans will be on hand to welcome Frankie Sinkwich and his 41 teammates at the depot.

The All-American "Bowl" Game

Series Gave Top Surprise

St. Louis Cardinals Voted Upset Champs.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The sports world furnished its share of the surprises this year, but the biggest came in the World Series, when the St. Louis Cardinals bounced back from defeat in the opener and whipped the highly favored New York Yankees in four straight games.

* * *

That achievement, coming after the Cardinals had nosed out the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National league pennant, was listed as the year's No. 1 surprise today by 39 of the 87 sports editors who voted in the annual poll of the Associated Press.

Twenty-two other voters placed the Cardinals second and 13 named them as third choice, giving the Red Birds a total of 174 points.

Closely behind came the Holy Cross football team's 55-12 upset over a Boston college team that had a perfect record and was favored by several touchdowns. Holy Cross collected 163 points.

Auburn's football upset of Georgia drew only four first-place votes but landed in third position ahead of the Washington Redskins, who dethroned the Chicago Bears as kings of professional football in the National league playoff. The Redskins got 31 points, compared with Auburn's 43.

Four Football Players Graduate

SOUTH BEND, Ind — (INS) — Four football lettermen and two track stars were lost today to Notre Dame along with 17 other athletes who were graduated at the 99th commencement exercises of the university which were advanced from next June by the wartime academic program.

The four football lettermen are Capt George Murphy, South Bend; John Lanahan, Jacksonville, Fla.; Larry Sullivan, Brockton, Mass., who will report for marine office training at Paris Island, S. C., and Tom Brock, Columbus, Neb. The two track stars are Jay Gibson, Mishawaka, Ind., sprinter, and Bob Vicars, Pontiac, Ill., javelin star.

Voted No. 1 Woman Athlete

Gloria Callen of Nyack, N. Y., pictured with some of the medals she has won through her swimming prowess, has been named the outstanding woman athlete of the year by a committee of sports writers. Miss Callen holds more than 30 swimming marks—even she, herself, is not sure of the exact number.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—It might be a humorous (in some quarters) development if some of the baseball club owners who are busy finding new training quarters because of transportation difficulties, etc., should learn that those long, expensive jaunts weren't necessary at all . . . There have been complaints at times that training under a hot Florida or California sun and then coming back to major league territory in mid-April didn't always produce the best results.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Frank Quinn, Butte (Mont.) Post: "Another of war's greatest 'coises'—the proposed comeback of two-ton Tony Galento. As long as the 'Joisey' barkeep isn't interested in the money angle and just craves a fight, we suggest he join Barney Ross, a champion of champions, in the Marines."

* * *

MONDAY MATINEE

Tulsa U. officials may ask to have their early Missouri valley basketball games re-scheduled because most of their cagers will be playing football in the Sugar Bowl . . . Jack Meagher, the Auburn coach who soon will be a major in the Marines, picks Alabama to beat Boston college in the Orange bowl — which is probably a good idea as long as he remains in the South . . . Lee (Jeep) Handley, former Pirate infielder, is toying with the idea of leaving his job with a tractor company to return to baseball next season. He has had offers from the Giants, Athletics and Toronto.

SERVICE DEPT.

Petey Sarron, former N.B.A. featherweight champ, stumbled over mathematics in the army officers' school at Miami. That's not hard to understand. As a boxer he never heard 'em count ten over him but once . . . Corp. Walter Scott, former crack New York amateur golfer, says the army has corrected his worst golfin gweakness. He never could make a chip shot right until he started using the smooth, sweeping stroke he learned wielding a broom in camp.

Deposed Baseball Prexy Found Dead

NEWTON, Ga.—(AP)—Trammell Scott, 56, recently deposed president of the Southern Baseball association, was found dead near here yesterday from a gunshot wound received while he was turkey hunting alone.

* * *

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that he "came to his death with self-inflicted gunshot wounds."

* * *

Scott had served for the past five years as president of the Southern association. Earlier this month, however, his contract was not renewed under circumstances which Scott at the time called "shocking."

When association directors met in Chicago this month, Billy Evans, for over 20 years an American league umpire, was named to succeed him.

HERSHEY BEARS WIN FOURTEENTH VICTORY

HERSHEY—(U.P.)—The Eastern division's pace-setting Hershey Bears racked up their 14th victory of the American Hockey league season Sunday night by scoring in very period to defeat the Indianapolis Caps, 3-1. The win boosted Hershey's margin to six points over Providence.

Pittsburgh trounced New Haven, 6-2, to move into second place in the Western division as the leading Buffalo Bisons maintained their two-point margin by clipping the Washington Lions, 6-3.

BARNEY ROSS NAMED FIGHTER OF YEAR

NEW YORK — (AP) — Barney Ross, who won three world championships in the ring but now does his fighting in far-off Guadalcanal as a corporal in the United States Marines, is the winner of the Edward J. Neil Memorial trophy as boxing's "man of the year."

Although he hasn't pulled on the padded gloves in many months, the little Chicagoan was the unanimous choice of members of the New York Boxing Writers association to receive the award given each year in memory of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1938 as a war correspondent in Spain.

Ted Williams Cops 5 Titles

Takes Batting Crown Second Straight Year.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Cornering most of the American league 1942 hitting honors, lean Ted Williams, the 24-year-old Boston Red Sox outfielder now taking a course in naval aviation and considered out of baseball for the duration of the war, became the eighth player in the league's history to win the batting championship more than once.

* * *

* * *

Williams also led in these departments: 36 home runs, 137 runs batted in, 338 total bases and 141 runs. Chet Laabs of the St. Louis Browns was second best in homers with 27.

Official figures showed a considerable let-down in batting this year. In 1941 three men exceeded Williams' new .356 mark, and 16 finished with .300 or better, whereas only seven regulars made this group in 1942.

Aggregate team batting dropped from .266 in 1941 to 257. The Red Sox, powered by Williams and Johnny Pesky took the title for the third straight year with .276—seven points shy of their 1941 percentage.

* * *

In the league as a whole, home run output dropped from 734 in 1941 to 533.

Pesky also is in the naval aviation program, was runner-up in batting with .331, but excelled the champion in number of hits with 205. Pesky also led in sacrifices with 22.

Race Track Fans Aid War Benefits

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS)—Racing fans heartily endorsed the war benefit policy of Bay Meadows race track which closed a highly successful 57 day meet Saturday, figures on the mutuel handle disclosed today.

Virtually all the profits went to war benefit agencies. The fans wagered a record total of $14,711,543. The daily average was $258,097.

The play at the $50 and $10 mutual windows was greater than ever before in the history of the track, although the play at the $2 windows fell off.

Orange Street Leads Tourney

Thelma Linster Rolls High Total In Opener.

Orange Street Cafe keglerettes took the lead in the annual Mansfield women's bowling tournament yesterday with a total of 2,493 pins as the tourney opened at Colony alleys.

Ten teams took the alleys yesterday and ten more are scheduled to complete the team event Tuesday at 6 p. m.

* * *

Thelma Linster took opening day scoring honors with a 595 total and 216 high game, and holds temporary lead in the race for all-events championship.

* * *

The men's tournament was scheduled to open last night with six teams facing the firing line, but no scores were turned in at the News-Journal office.

Following scores in the women's tourney include handicaps in the totals.

MARK PAYMENT OF CHURCH DEBT

Sunday Ceremonies Feature Burning of Final Note at Galion.

GALION—A note burning ceremony featured the program at the Trinity Lutheran church Sunday. The church which was organized here in 1924, paid the last of its church debt last week. Rev. E. H. Albrecht, of Columbus, delivered the morning service and at noon a congregational dinner was held, followed by rehearsal in the afternoon of the children's Christmas program.

In August, 1933, the cornerstone of the present building was laid and the church was dedicated May 19, 1935. Rev. J. J. Allwardt was the first pastor. Rev. J. E. Albrecht served as pastor for 10 years and Rev. Henry Young, the present pastor, came to Galion in 1941.

* * *

GALION — Christmas programs by the Galion churches offered Christmas cheer and solace to Galion citizens Sunday.

At the Peace Lutheran church a candlelight processional opened the program as the members of the choir presented an evening recital of Christmas carols from many lands. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. R. M. Pounder.

Four departments of the Sunday School of the Church of the Nazarene combined to present the church Christmas program Sunday evening. Directing the oral and musical program were Mrs. Donald Marshman, in charge of the beginners' department; Mrs. Clyde Bersinger, primary; Mrs. Andrew Young, juniors; and Ethel Gregg, intermediate.

A church recital, under the direction of Mrs. W. W. Koppe, provided the program at the United Brethern church Sunday evening Assisting were M. F. Engard, Franklin Craun, and Elwood Christman. Soloists were Betty Long, Mildred Patterson, Mrs. Hazel McKean, Ruth Ulmer, and Franklin Craun. Mrs. John Steel served as organist.

At the First Methodist church both morning and evening services provided the Christmas spirit and setting. At the morning service Dorothy Black as organ soloist and Peggy Smith as piano soloist presented Christmas selections, and in the evening a Cantata, entitled "Prepare Him Room" was presented. Rev. W. N. Robertson read the Christmas story.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC, CANTATAS FEATURE SHELBY SERVICES

SHELBY — Annual Christmas services were held Sunday morning, afternoon and evening, at the Shelby churches. Others are planned during this week in keeping with the season.

"The First Christmas" was presented in song and story Sunday morning at the United Brethren church by the elementary departments of the Sunday school. Those appearing on the program were: Sally Harbaugh, James Miller, Paul Smith, Louise Hollenbaugh, Carol Aumend, Frances Stump, Shirley Coleman, Jean Hart, Billy Perman, Jimmy Smith, Raymond Miller and Allan Milliron.

The evening service was the dramatic cantata, "Good Will To Men," presented under the direction of Miss Jennie Kirkpatrick. The principal parts were taken by Wilburn and Donna Carlson, Virginia Searle, Paul Smith, John Searle, jr., Billy Perman, Bill and Pauline Clark, Chester P. Monn, Marion and Herbert Frank. The choir furnished the music.

A candlelight service was featured at the evening service at the First Church of Christ while special music by the choir was sung at the morning service. Soloists were Noel Galloway, Roy Kirkpatrick, Robert Bartzell, Miss Mildred Phillips, Miss Alice Flickinger, Miss Eloise Lewis and Miss Roseann Kirkpatrick.

The annual Sunday School Christmas program was given Sunday night at the First Baptist church and First Evangelical and Reformed churches. During the Baptist program, the play, "A Gift for the Christ Child," was dramatized. Those taking part in the Reformed church program were William Hassler, Barbara Hassler, Rev. Carl A. Grimm, the girls' choir and children's departments.

The Lutheran league sang carols at the home of shut-ins Sunday night instead of the regular devotional service. Dr. D. Bruce Young preached on an appropriate Christmas subject at the morning worship hour.

Other appropriate services were held at the Most Pure Heart of Mary, St. Mark's Episcopal, Church of God and Church of Nazarene.

BIG DECLINE

Auto Sales Show Marked Drop In Crawford County.

BUCYRUS — The decline in automobile sales in Crawford county is reflected in the records of titles issued in the clerk of courts office where only 80 titles had been file dto Dec. 15. Titles issued in November numbered 430 and the October figure was 356.

October figures this year as compared with the same month last year showed almost a 50 per cent decrease.

November notation of liens totaled 81 as compared with 223 issued in the same month in 1941, and of liens in November this year totaled 154 as compared with 185 in the same month last year.

DECREE DENIED

ASHLAND—A divorce has been denied in Ashland common pleas court to Mary Elizabeth Morehead in her suit against Charles J. Morehead, the plaintiff having failed to prove the allegations of her petition. Jurge H. E. Culbertson has ruled that the plaintiff is entitled to alimony and has awarded her $3,357 84 in an account in a Greenwich bank, household goods and furniture. The defendant was awarded an automobile, livestock, grain, ets.. and $2,500. Both have been restricted to withdrawals of $75 per month in advance with costs of the case to be shared by both.

COUNCIL ELECTS

MILLERSBURG—Advisory Council No. 7 has elected the following officers: George Bowers, chairman; Lawrence Williams, assistant; Mrs. Walter Weimer, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Williams, discussion leader; Walter Weimer, assistant.

CRAWFORD BOND CAMPAIGN GOES FAR OVER GOAL

Fund Stands at $2,129,711 With More To Come; Buyers Names Go To Soldiers.

BUCYRUS — Going over the $1,900,000 goal set for Crawford county in the Victory Fund drive, bond sales continued to pile up today with Saturday figures standing at $2,129,711.

W. A. Blicke has served as general chairman of the fund drive.

Sale of the "E" bonds continued in Crawford county with the December quota of $182,196 still a little short of the goal. Bucyrus has turned in $56,175 in bonds; Crestline, $31,250, and Galion has not reported. Purchasers of the "E" bonds this month will place their names on the Golden book, to be bound and sent to training camps.

* * *

BUCYRUS — Unemployment in Crawford county is on the decline, reflecting a country-wide trend, according to November figures from the office of unemployment compensation.

November payments were 47.1 per cent lower than the October figures with payments of $451.72 made last month.

November payments for unemployment in the state were 32 per cent lower than the previous month.

New claims in the Bucyrus area declined 18.2 per cent. An average of six unemployed persons received payments per week during November.

COLLECTS $1,000 FOR INJURIES

LEXINGTON — Payment of a $1,000 personal injury claim of Jane A. Thornton of Lexington was authorized today by President Roosevelt who signed bills providing payment of three other similar claims.

The government will pay the Lexington claimant $1,000 because she suffered injuries March 31, 1939, when the truck in which she was riding was hit by a federal soil conservation car near Wellington.

Others who will receive damages as the result of accidents involving government cars or trucks include Dr. and Mrs. J. Scott of Carroll county and Mrs. Bessie Schakett of Columbus.

MARK ANNIVERSARY

LOUDONVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Huffman will observe the golden wedding anniversary Christmas day with a dinner and open house from 2 to 9 p. m. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Peters and Mrs. William Kauffman, both of Loudonville.

This Looks Like Christmas!

"Early birds" wander through piles of newly arrived Christmas trees on New York's Eighth avenue to make their selections as the holiday season gets into full swing, although Christmas brilliance will be somewhat dimmed by official frowns upon outdoor illumination this year.

SCHOOL GIVES YULE PROGRAM

Butler Pupils To Present Music and Playlet Thursday In Auditorium.

BUTLER — The music department pupils in the Butler school will present a Christmas program Thursday at 1:15 p. m., before the schools are dismissed for the holidays. Mrs. Doris Horn, music supervisor, will be in charge of the program.

The high school glee club will open the program with the processional, "Tune Your Hearts to Gladdest Song," and then will sing two carols.

A rhythm band composed of pupils in the first, second, and third grades will play three numbers with Mrs. Kathleen Williams, first grade teacher, directing.

Other numbers on the program will include a costume dance, "Dolls of the United Nations," under the direction of Mildred Clark; songs by an a cappella choir of 40 grade pupils; a playlet, "Prompt Delivery," by sixth grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Helen Carsey; violin solo by Cecil Mathews, seventh grade pupil; numbers by the high school orchestra, and the high school girls' sextet.

Concluding the program will be a song by the glee club, "During the Watch of Flocks at Night." The entire school will sing carols

The entertainment in the school auditorium will be open to the public.

American Soldiers In Iceland Practice Christmas Carols

Dressed warmly in arctic uniforms, these U. S. soldiers stationed somewhere in Iceland gather round a portable organ and practice singing Christmas carols. Wherever American troops are stationed in the world, similar practice sessions are being held. They sing of peace on earth to men of good will—which excludes Axis troops. This is an official U. S. Army Signal Corps photo. (Central Press.)

The story of a People's crusade

A STORY EVERY AMERICAN CAN BE PROUD OF

This is the story of a people's triumph...the story of an aroused American public marching as to war.

Marching with scrap. Millions of tons of it...from homes, offices, stores, public buildings and farms...from cities, villages and hamlets.

Millions of tons of scrap for the steel mills...to enable them to produce the ships and tanks and planes and guns which our armed forces must have to win the war.

It was a major crisis that faced the nation early in September. If the steel mills didn't get more scrap metal soon, they would be forced to shut down. If the mills shut down...if our Army and Navy didn't get the arms and equipment they needed...how could we be sure of Victory?

It was, said Donald Nelson, one of the nation's gravest war problems.

The War Production Board knew that only by arousing the people in every community, only by making them scrapping mad, could the problem be solved. It had to be a people's job, a people's crusade. Nelson asked the newspapers of the country to lead it.

It was a big assignment. Gladly and quickly the newspapers accepted it. Almost overnight they set up national, sectional, state, and local committees. Almost overnight nearly every newspaper in the country was in action...and had enlisted the aid of local officials and the cooperation of civic, welfare, and religious organizations.

* * *

The drive was launched by advertisements...large, small and medium. Prepared by the National Committee of Newspapers and adjusted for local use by local newspapers, they appeared almost overnight and continued almost every day in hundreds of newspapers throughout the country. They furnished the motivating power. They started the people going. And when the people got going, the newspapers gave the drive further momentum with news stories, pictures, cartoons and editorials...urging the public to get out more scrap, to get out more scrap.

Each community handled the drive in its own way...adopted, under the leadership of local newspapers, special plans to fit its own local conditions. In thousands of communities there were local contests, prizes, public meetings, special events...to speed the job along.

* * *

Within a few days, the whole nation was scrap-conscious. When the drive was only 16 days old, a Gallup Poll showed that 94 per cent of the people knew about the great crusade, had read about the scrap campaign in their newspapers. The newspapers, with their ads and their stories, had taken the drive into every home in the country.

And within a few days, mountains of scrap began to pile up in thousands of cities, towns and villages. By truckload and bargeload and trainload the metal began to flow across the land to the mills...enabling the furnaces where Victory is being forged to glow again with the white heat of peak production.

The war on the scrap front must go on, of course. The steel mills will need scrap metal as long as the war lasts. But this, the first great battle, is won.

Donald Nelson wanted 4,000,000 tons of scrap in eight weeks. The people gave him more than 5,000,000 tons in three weeks. And that, said Vice Admiral S. M. Robinson, Chief of the Navy's Bureau of Procurement and Material, is enough scrap to build several times more battleships than there are in all the fleets of the world combined.

* * *

That's the story, briefly. It's the story of a national triumph made up of thousands of local successes, in which local pride, local energy, and local leadership of newspapers went to work. It's a story in which millions of Americans had a part...a story every American can be proud of. And it demonstrates once again the power of the press, its capacity to serve the public...and its ability not only to sell the people an idea, but to get them to do something about it.

A Statement from DONALD NELSON, Chairman, War Production Board

"This has been a wonderful job and has resulted in increasing the flow of scrap to the steel furnaces that must be kept going to keep our munitions program up. The whole campaign has been a major contribution to the war effort....The job that the newspapers have done is absolutely unprecedented in this country....The results have surpassed my fondest hopes."

ARE YOU BUYING WAR BONDS?

There's More Than Meets the EYE!

There's nothing like the response which News-Journal WANT ADS produce, as this recent experience will illustrate:

The waters of Niagara fall a greater distance AFTER they reach the surface of the water than the height of the falls itself.

There's a lot more than meets the eye so far as News-Journal WANT AD performance is concerned. Approximately 2 out of 5 adult News-Journal readers look over the Want Ads each day.

WELL, WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THAT? USING IT TO SEND DOTS AND DASHES OF LIGHT, HEY?
WHICH HER CONFEDERATES SOMEWHERE COULD SEE AND INTERPRET!
Y'KNOW, I SAW ANNA IN A DRUGSTORE ONE NIGHT AND SHE WAS BUYING SOME FLASHLIGHT BATTERIES, BUT I DIDN'T GET IT JUST THEN— NOT UNTIL MR. WERNER SHOWED ME THOSE FLASHES! OF COURSE, I MAY BE ALL WRONG..
PAM HASN'T HEARD FROM DAVID FOR NEARLY TWO DAYS NOW
BUT JUST THEN THE DOOR OPENS, AND-
HI, WONDER GIRL! IT'S ALL OVER! WE LANDED 'EM— ANNA AND ALL HER NASTY NAZI PALS!
DAVID!
BUT THERE WAS ONE THEY DID NOT CATCH!

STOCKS TAKE IRREGULARLY HIGHER JUMP

Buying Pressure Eases Off In Steel Industry as War Needs Met.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Irregularly higher prices predominated in today's early stock market proceedings.

Up fractionally at a fairly active opening were Bethlehem, Standard Oil (N. J.), Radio corporation, Youngstown Sheet, Air Reduction and General Motors. On the offside were Texas company, Pensylvania and U. S. Steel.

Market analysts studied the survey of the magazine "Steel" which said buying pressure in this industry had slackened for most products, with requests being made to hold up shipments and some cancellations reported.

"Suspensions have been asked in plates, small bars, sheets, shapes and some other items," the review added. These suspensions are attributed not only to lack of urgent need but also to the fact that inventories have reached a point where further supply is not needed."

THEATERS

Familiar Story.

A stream-lined version of one of America's most beloved stories, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," opens at the Ohio theater Tuesday to play through Thursday. Fay Bainter has the role of the immortal Mrs. Wiggs who lives in that part of shantytown known as the "Cabbage Patch." Vera Vague and Hugh Herbert contribute much of the comedy as "Miss Hazy" and "Marcus Throckmorton," whose uncertain romance is climaxed by a trip to the altar. A number of child players are in the picture including Carolyn Lee and Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer.

* * *

Horror Bill.

Two film shockers, "The Mummy's Tomb" and "Night Monster" continue at the Madison. An awesome guise is worn by Lon Chaney, jr., in the first picture as he portrays an ancient Egyptian mummy kept alive a thousand years by a magic brew. Dick Foran in the role of a New England archeologist, John Hubbard and Elyse Knox are in the cast. The story is laid in a New England village. "Night Monster," the co-feature, deals with a series of murders at a forboding country estate. Bela Lugosi and Lionel Atwill are in the cast.

* * *

Romantic Drama.

Rose Hobart and Sidney Blackmer are co-featured in "Gallant Lady" at the Ritz. Adopted from an Octavus Roy Cohen story the film concerns a woman doctor who innocently becomes involved in trouble just as she is about to be released from a state prison farm. Miss Hobart has the role of the doctor and Sidney Blackmer plays a country physician who befriends her. Jane Novak and Claire Rochelle are in the cast. "Mad Youth," with Betty Compton is the second picture.

* * *

War Comedy.

Blondie goes all-out to win the war and leaves Dagwood to look after the house in the Park comedy, "Blondie for Victory," with Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake and Larry Simms. Stuart Irwin is in the supporting cast as a henpecked young man who enlists in the army to escape the attentions of the fair sex. Pat O'Brien and Glenn Ford are cast in the co-feature, "Flight Lieutenant," the story of a young flyer who attempts to clear his father's flying record with his own daring. Evelyn Keyes is in the cast.

Man With Body of Boy Hunted In 8-State Search

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(U.P.)—An eight state search was underway today for a man in a New York-registered automobile who opened the car's trunk and displayed the body of a small boy to a filling station attendant in an effort to get gasoline.

The search began Saturday after Charles Brennan, a Coventry filling station attendant, told state police a man who demanded gasoline "because I'm making an emergency trip to Massachusetts" and displayed the body to prove his need. Brennan had refused to sell him gasoline because of the federal moratorium on sales.

Brennan said the man's automobile was a 1936 sedan and that there were "two or three" boys in the tonneau. The body, according to his story to police, was wrapped in a blanket and the driver mumbled something about having permission to transport it from New Haven, Conn., to Massachusetts for burial.

The motorist was described as about 39 years old, five feet seven inches tall and weighing about 175 pounds. He was slightly bald with grayish hair and needed a shave. Brennan said he wore a bus driver's brown uniform under a regular overcoat and a chauffeur's cap.

The attendant, police said, was too frightened to argue and filled the tank. He jotted down the license number and noted that the gasoline ration coupons had not been issued for that car.

Police said the attendant was not sure of the age of the boy whose body was crumpled up in the trunk.

There was a possibility, they said, that the body might have been that of Malcolm Harris, jr., 7-year-old Cambridge, Mass., boy who disappeared while en route to see Santa Claus nine days ago.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Police said today that the man sought by Rhode Island police is believed to be a local resident who quit his job last Thursday and has not been seen since.

He has a wife and four children. Police found all the children safe in their mother's care. His wife had made no report to police of his disappearance.

GAS RATIONING CHIEFS CONFER

Meet at White House To Plan Changes In Present Ration Program.

Accepting of Henderson's resignation was interpreted as a move to mend the administration's home front fences with congress. Many congressmen who will come back for the 78th congress went home in an angry mood.

Byrnes, who has emerged in recent weeks as a sort of deputy president so far as domestic problems are concerned, is an astute politician. While in the senate, he did much of the behind-the-scenes maneuvering on administration bills. His hand could be seen by observers here in the current moves.

The week-end holiday on gasoline sales brought home to millions of easterners the seriousness of the oil situation on the seaboard. The crisis was precipitated by diversion of motor fuel supplies to North Africa.

"I hope this small disturbance of the last two days," Henderson said, "will shock the public into realization of what could happen to the nation's war effort not only in North Africa, but in less obvious ways."

Complete elimination of "A" gasoline books had been anticipated, but Henderson said there was no intention to do so at present.

Henderson also revealed that a new drive would begin at once against black market and bootlegging operations in both fuel oil and gasoline.

REGISTER AGAIN

Fuel Oil Consumers To List Names Next Week.

Users of fuel oil in Mansfield and Richland county will re-register next week, it was announced today by Charles Beelman, chairman of the county war price and rationing board.

Mansfield users will register at the ration board offices.

Beelman and Nelson Neff, chief clerk, are seeking a way for county users to re-register without causing undue wear on auto tires or use of gasoline. Applications may be mailed to consumers, Neff said today, or the new registration may be conducted in the county schools as before.

To date no information has been received relative to increased allotments.

APPEAL WAGE DEMANDS

EAST LIVERPOOL —(AP)— The National Brotherhood of Operative Potters will ask the war labor board to rule on the AFL union's demands for "substantial wage increases." James M. Duffy, president of the potters' union, said an appeal to the WLB was decided upon after conferences with the United States Potters association were stalemated.

SEEK WOMEN WORKERS

CANTON—(AP)—A campaign to obtain 3,500 women for war work within the next six months has been launched by the United States Employment service. Jay A. Bailey, supervisor in charge of war industry placements, said that many women would be needed to supply at least half of the city's labor needs the next half-year.

HAVE ROOM FOR 'WAR' STUDENTS

Ohio Colleges Report Their Enrollment Down Tenth From Last Year.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Ohio's 35 colleges and universities—their full-time enrollment down 10.3 per cent from 1941—should have no trouble accommodating a number of the sailors and soldiers Uncle Sam intends to send to school under a program announced last week.

The Ohio schools had 43,718 full-time students this year, compared to 48,723 in the fall of 1941, exceeding by .8 per cent a national average decline of 9.5 per cent for 667 institutions covered in the 24th annual survey of college attendance records by Dr. Raymond Walters, University of Cincinnati president.

Dr. Walters' survey, reported in the current issue of School and Society, weekly educational journal, showed 746,922 full-time students against 825,592 last year and a grand total attendance, including part-time students, of 1,075,849, a decline of 13.9 per cent.

Three other midwestern states lost less full-time enrollment than Ohio. Indiana, with 23,233 students in 17 institutions, was down only 2.4 per cent; Michigan, with 32,905 in 19 schools, 3.2 per cent; and Illinois, with 46,067 in 33 schools, 7.7 per cent.

Kentucky, however, lost 18.7 per cent of its full-time enrollment and now had 9,851 in 16 institutions. West Virginia's seven schools have 5,632, down 13 per cent.

Ohio State university moved up from fifth to fourth largest in the nation, despite a drop of 578 full-time students to 11,152.

OFFICES CLOSE

Courthouse Employes To Get Extended Yule Holiday.

Courthouse offices will close Thursday afternoon and will not reopen until the following Monday morning.

Guarantee of the extended Christmas holiday was contained this morning in the action of the county commissioners in announcing a further half holiday on Saturday to supplement the usual half holiday.

While municipal building employes had voiced the first idea of the Saturday closing, no definite action had been taken by them at noon today, although indications pointed strongly to the Saturday closing.

Ration board and gasoline panel offices will be closed.

While the Retail Merchants association has recommended that stores remain open as usual on Saturday, two department stores, R. B. Maxwell company and H. L. Reed company, have announced that they will observe holidays from Thursday evening until Monday morning.

APPROVE WAGE BOOSTS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The war labor board announced last night approval or agreements between two Ohio match companies and the AFL-United Match Workers council, granting wage increases averaging 10 per cent. The companies are: Ohio Match company, Wadsworth; and Diamond Match company, Barberton.

KILLED IN FALL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Harry C. Fitzpatrick, 69, was killed in a fall at the St. Clair Convalescent hospital and rest home here. The mishap occurred a half hour before he was scheduled to leave for his Hardin county home.

Go To Kentucky—Deputy Sheriff C. C. Gongwer and Wilbur Jamison left this morning for Moorhead, Ky., to return James Patton, who was taken into custody there on a larceny warrant from Richland county.

Postpone Meeting—Monthly session of the Mansfield board of education, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until Dec. 29, because of a number of conflicting activities this week, Clerk John H. Eisaman of the board announced today.

Club Meets Tonight — Monday Night club members, Senior high school pupils and graduates of 1942, will hold their weekly entertainment today at 8:30 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. Ralph B. Chapman, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., announced.

Choir On Kiwanis Bill—The a cappella choir conducted by LeMoine Derr will present a program at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday in the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Arch R. Jones will be program chairman.

Auditor Gets Check — County Auditor Norman Wolfe today received the yearly distribution check from the Motor Transport division of Ohio. Richland county's share was $1,299.30 which included amounts ranging from Mansfield's allotment of $149 to Shiloh's quota of eight cents.

Accused By Wife—Steve Halvaksz, 287 North Main street, was to be arraigned in municipal court today on the charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife. Halvaksz was arrested last midnight by Patrolmen Don Mitchell and John Gilbert.

Store Burglarized—F. F. Dillon, 337 North Bowman street, proprietor of the North End Cigar store at 401 North Bowman street, told police yesterday that when he opened his shop at noon he discovered it had been burglarized since midnight. About $2 was taken from penny gum and match vending machines.

Meeting Time Changed — Hermit club members will meet at 6 p. m. instead of 6:30 p. m. today in Happy Harry's Colonial room for their regular dinner meeting. Afterwards the group will go to the Friendly house to assist with the annual Christmas party given for the children there.

Burned by Steam — Herman Roop, Mansfield R. D. 5, burned Saturday night by steam coming from a machine he was operating at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, and taken to General hospital for treatment, was reported in "good" condition today, hospital atendants said. He has first degree burns on his forearms and thighs.

Prospect Pupils Buy A Jeep---A Real One

That cardboard jeep pictured above will soon be a real machine bought by Prospect school pupils through their purchase of war stamps. Around Thanksgiving several sixth grades built the cardboard vehicle to spur the pupils with their purchases. Shown above are builders of the jeep and the boys who helped carry on the stamp sales. From left to fight are Donald Priess, Rudy Kapp, Dave Kunert, Russell Betz and Bernard Weaver. By the middle of last week $854 of the required $900 (cost of a jeep) had been raised and in order to have the campaign end by Christmas vacation, a special drive among the pupils was put on Thursday and Friday to raise the necessary $46. Friday afternoon George W. Taylor, principal, reported that the pupils had gone over the top.

END OF SIEGE LOOMS, REPORT

American Writer Says Soviets Confident They Can Free Key Volga City.

meanders down to the rawest private just entering battle that the siege of Stalingrad will be lifted and that Russia's armies will surge on to ultimate victory in the war.

The outstanding facts about the present Russian counter-offensive may be summarized as follows:

1. The blow took the enemy completely by surprise. That was admitted to me by a captured Rumanian general with whom I talked at a front-line railroad station where he was waiting to be taken to Moscow. "The Russian offensive was so unexpected and so crushing," he said, "that it shattered all the plans of the German-Rumanian high command."

2. Plans for the counter-offensive were worked out under the direction of Premier Stalin. Clockwork precision was needed because the Germans enjoyed superior forces and better communication facilities.

3. The Allied occupation of North Africa gave a tremendous boost to Soviet morale, according to Red army officers. As they expressed it, the Russian army now is confident that it is not fighting alone.

4. The Stalingrad winter—bad as it is—was not the primary factor in the Axis set-back. Soviet officers say the German-Rumanian forces were out-fought and outthought.

In seeking information about what surely will be known as one of the great battles of history—a "Red Verdun," it might be called—I was given all the liberties that are possible under the rules of war.

Here is the situation on the Stalingrad front:

At present the Red army has two objectives (1) to keep the trap closed on the remainder of the 22 enemy divisions caught between the Don and the Volga and (2) to thrust westward and southward and keep open a Soviet corridor at the bend of the Don river.

During a two-day drive toward headquarters I saw evidence of rapidly-increasing Russian strength. There were endless white, motorized caravans and infantry columns moving up to the front. Occasionally we encountered bewildered hordes of Rumanian prisoners trudging northwestward and almost unescorted.

Mrs. Jameson To Present Costume Recital Dec. 27

The Music Study club is presenting Mrs. Edith Fletcher Jameson in a costume recital for their annual public Christmas tea in the ball room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 4 p. m., Dec. 27, Miss Florence MacDonald, president, has announced.

Louis Bromfield will be commentator for the occasion to describe background for the four movements including 17th century, gypsy, Oriental and modern American life.

Assisting Mrs. Jameson in her recital will be Miss Pearl Danback, flutist, and Mrs. Minnie Marks Cahall, pianist. Appropriate costumes will be used in each of the scenes.

County's Victory Loan Drive Over Quota With $4,462,900

Harbor day campaign, Dec. 7.

Bonds amounting to $457,000 on Pearl Harbor day were included in the sale of Series E bonds that for the month of December totalled $600,000, Brunner said. Other totals in the sale of bonds of different denominations were: four and one-half year Treasury bonds at one and three-fourths per cent, $1,535,000; 26-year treasury bonds at two and one-half per cent, $302,000; one year treasury certificates at seven-eighths per cent, $1,440,000; tax notes; $445,900; United States Savings bonds, Series F and G, $140,000.

Tax notes and United States war bonds can be purchased any time this month, Brunner said.

U. S. Goal Passed In Loan Campaign

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— The current victory loan campaign already is over the top, but treasury officials are considering raising their sights for new tax proposals to be presented to the new congress.

The treasury has not disclosed how much additional tax burden it will seek to impose next year, but treasury general counsel Randolph Paul has said that an additional $15,000,000,000 will have to be absorbed from the public either by taxation or forced savings.

Paul's estimate was based on a national income of $135,000,000,000. Yesterday Secretary of Commerce Jess Jones estimated that the national income in 1943 would reach $135,000,000,000. That "certainly intensifies our problem," Paul said, and the whole program will be reconsidered.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., reported that all financial records of history had been shattered in the December victory fund drive. The original mark set for the month was $9,000,000,000 to be raised through war bonds. Morgenthau revealed that that mark already had been surpassed by $1,000,000,000 and that the goal had been raised to $10,000,000,000 for the month.

If the new goal is reached before the end of the year, he said, it will insure that the next big drive can be postponed until late March or early April.

CLOSES FEB. 1

Ohio WPA Program, Employing 11,700 to Be Liquidated

COLUMBUS —(AP)—Ohio's WPA program, currently employing 11,712 persons, is scheduled for liquidation about Feb. 1, but Morris J. Schwartz, director of WPA's division of training and reemployment, predicted most of the workers would find employment in private industry.

William H. Hartsough, state welfare department relief consultant, estimated between 3,000 and 4,000 would apply for public aid.

BRITISH PLOD ON IN BURMA

Continue Jungle Advance as Jap Planes Drop Bombs In Calcutta Area.

Japanese had made a new thrust from Burma into China's southern province of Yunnan.

Informed quarters said the push toward Akyab by Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's troops was not a major effort to recapture Burma.

By taking Akyab, the Allies would have an air base only 350 miles from Rangoon.

Allied Tanks Join In Buna Battle

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA —(AP)— Allied tanks and infantry smashed today at dwindling Japanese forces trapped in a horseshoe pocket in the Buna Mission area of New Guinea, and Allied headquarters said the enemy commander, Lieut. Gen. Tomatore Horii, had been reported killed in action.

The bloody trap was drawn tighter with capture of the Cape Endaiadere region Friday by Australian shock troops, and General MacArthur's command announced a general attack, spearheaded by tanks and artillery, was underway against the Japanese remnants on this right flank. A communique declared the "enemy's position is deteriorating."

It was the first time the Allies had used tanks in a general attack on this front. Field dispatches identified the tanks as light American-made "General Stuarts" manned by Australians.

The Mikado's men at Buna Mission represent one of the last two remaining pockets of enemy resistance on the Papuan peninsula, after successive Allied capture of Gona, Buna and Cape Endaiadere. The other pocket is at nearby Cape Sanananda.

The Japanese forces in the two pockets were strongly entrenched in pillbox fortifications, and were resisting to the last man.

U. S. Bombers Smash At Jap-Held Lashio

CHUNGKING —(INS)— United States bombing planes carried out a strong assault yesterday against Japanese-occupied Lashio in upper Burma, it was reported today, ported today.

Lashio is the Burma terminus of the now-blocked Burma road leading to Kunming, China. It is the site of an important airdrome.

PLANE MISSING

Vancouver Waits Word of Air Transport with 13 Aboard.

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(AP)—Fear was felt today for the safety of 10 passengers and a crew of three aboard a Canadian Pacific Airline transport missing on a regular flight from Prince George, B. C., to Vancouver.

The plane left Prince George yesterday afternoon and was due at Vancouver airport at 6:30 p. m. last night. The last report from the plane was received at 5:40 p. m.

8 SHIPS SUNK

74 Seamen Killed, 24 Missing In Week's Shipping Toll.

(By Associated Press)

Eight more cargo ships last week were announced sunk in enemy attacks on the western Atlantic — three off the United States and five off South America. Seventy-four seamen were reported killed and 24 missing.

The sinkings brought to 564 the Associated Press tabulation of announced United and neutral nations cargo ship losses in enemy action in those waters since Pearl Harbor.

structure before being discovered.

Zimmerman ordered a man away from the scene after tiring of his endless criticism of the department's efforts. "This curbstone chief" Zimmerman declared, "ranted about dynamiting the flaming dwelling. He apparently is unaware that the practice in such cases is to blast away adjoining buildings to prevent flame spread—and that such a practice, which would have been foolish in this instance, would have razed the critic's house."

Dripping around valves is not uncommon in severe cold weather, firemen say, and condensation inside the metal barrels of hydrants also creates a water deposit which can freeze quickly. Regular hydrant inspections are made, Chief Charles J. Seeburger said today, but the process requires some time.

When he submitted his resignation to Gov. Bricker, Judge Kalbfleisch asked that his successor be named before the end of this month so he would have time to acquaint himself with the duties of the office.

Gov. Bricker made two other judicial appointments today. He named Donald L. McCarroll to succeed Municipal Judge Gordon Burris at Canton. Judge Burris had resigned to enter the army. His successor will serve until November, 1943. Bricker also named Charles K. Correll acting municipal judge until the recovery of Judge James A. Bowman, who recently suffered a heart attack.

MOVE TO HALT MILK SHORTAGE

OPA Officials Authorize Price Change In 27 Ohio Counties.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The OPA moved today to avert a threatened shortage of milk supply in 27 Ohio counties by authorizing a price adjustment, effective tomorrow, which will enable distributors and wholesalers in the area to furnish milk to their regular markets.

Birkett L. Williams, regional administrator of OPA, said all dealers and distributors in each of the 27 counties, except Montgomery, would be permitted to increase prices one cent a quart at both wholesale and retail levels. Montgomery county is allowed a one-half cent per quart increase.

PRESIDENT'S SON HONORED

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif.—(AP)—Dominican republic's highest military medal, the Order of Military Merit, first class, today adorned the marine tunic of Lt. Col. James Roosevelt. Ismael Aviles, Dominican consul in Los Angeles, presented the gold star on a white ribbon to the president's son.

KNOX SPREAD

1 envelope Knox Gelatine
¾ cup cold water
1 lb. butter
1 14½-oz. can evaporated milk
1 teaspoonful salt

1. Soften gelatine in ¾ cup cold water.
2. Dissolve thoroughly over hot water.
3. Cut butter into small pieces and heat over hot water until soft enough to beat. But do not melt the butter.
4. Add dissolved gelatine and salt to the milk. Gradually whip milk into butter with a Dover egg beater or electric mixer until milk does not separate.
5. Add coloring if desired.
6. Pack in dish or container and place in refrigerator until hard. Keep in refrigerator when not in use.

NOTE: Fresh milk may be substituted for the evaporated milk, in which case use a pint of milk (preferably the top half of a quart bottle), and soften the gelatine in one-fourth cup milk taken from that pint.

Knox Spread is not suggested for frying, sautéing or greasing pans.

KNOX GELATINE

Is Plain, Unflavored Gelatine...Pure Protein

With Knox Gelatine, it's easy to whip light cream...here's how:

1½ teaspoonfuls Knox Gelatine
2 tablespoonfuls milk
1 cup light cream
2 tablespoonfuls sugar
½ teaspoonful vanilla

1. Soften gelatine in cold milk.
2. Dissolve thoroughly over hot water.
3. Pour cream into a deep bowl, making sure it is sufficiently deep so cream will cover the "beaters." add sugar and vanilla, and stir until sugar is thoroughly dissolved.
   Important—Be sure to have cream thoroughly chilled.
4. Add dissolved gelatine and beat until stiff with a Dover egg beater.

Note: When the whipped cream is used for purposes other than for a topping, follow same procedure but omit sugar and vanilla.

ıt that's just the outside. never was a finer boy than he was, 20 years ago. But life twisted him and hurt him, and he tries to get back at it. He was married, you know, to a quiet, cold sort of woman—very small and delicate always, and dying —you might say—from her wedding day. One poor little baby she had after another, four of them, and they all died.

"Two days—three days—and the little things wilted like flowers. This was a dreadful house in those years, for he wanted a son, and she did, too, and they came to see that there'd never be a healthy child. She lived eight or nine years after the last one, but she never was well. He watched her and cared for her; that was his life—"

"He loved her?" Dina put in.

"Yes, I think he did," the housekeeper said judicially; "but her being so ill ended his life, in a way. He got so that he was always here at home, and when she died five years ago he didn't change his ways at all."

"Mrs. Bucket," the girl said suddenly, "you know Vere Holland don't you?"

"I do indeed. He comes here now and then. But Mr. Holland and his mother—she's taken the name Holland back again—don't get along. She's another of the Aline sort," said Mrs. Bucket.

"And do you think he—Vere"—Dina asked, trembling—"do you think he is good?"

"Vere? I don't know that I'd trust Vere too far," the woman answered thoughtfully. "There isn't a mean bone in his body, I'll say that for him, but his mother's spoiled him, and she's talked a lot of worldly nonsense at him too. It isn't right that any woman should talk of a man as she talks to him of his father. I've met Mr. Van Holland, and you wouldn't want to meet a nicer man. What's the matter with you?"

* * *

The question came suddenly, for Dina had leaned forward in the car and by the flashing of passing lights the other woman could see the tragedy in her face.

"Will you help me, Mrs. Bucket?" Dina asked breathlessly. "I'm in trouble It was that that first made me go see Mr. Holland. I've no one else to ask; I don't dare tell my father or mother; I don't know what to do!"

"What's the matter?" The housekeeper asked again. The change in her tone made Dina's heart sink. It was withdrawn, cautious. But Dina could not stop now.

"You see"—she stammered eagerly—"I know Vere Holland! I was trying to find him; I have to find him. But now, now I don't know what to do."

"Vere?" Mrs. Bucket demanded in a heavy, incredulous voice.

"Yes! We went about together all through November. And now he's gone away, and I have to see him; I have to talk to him! But I can't—I can't wreck his life."

Her voice sank. There was a silence, terrible to Dina.

"You that looked like a little girl," Mrs. Bucket presently murmured, as if she spoke to herself.

"I know, I know!" Dina said in a sick voice.

"Does Mr. Holland know?"

"I told him."

"And he said?"

"He said that Vere's mother was a hard woman and that she would try to make him think it wasn't true."

"Yes, and she will, too," Mrs. Bucket said. "And you want to go find him, wherever he is, and tell him he's got to marry you, is that it?" she asked.

"What else can I go?"

"You write him what you thought?"

"Not—not in words, exactly. But he couldn't mistake it."

"And he didn't answer that?"

"Yes, just a week ago. He said not to worry and that his mother was sure everything was all right."

"H'm!" commented Mrs. Bucket. "How long were you and Vere going together?"

"Only a few weeks. Then he asked me to go up to the Sierras, skiing. It was so wonderful."

"And you went every weekend?"

"No, only once. We were planning to go again, we were planning so many things—talking of being together always—"

They were reaching the unsavory neighborhood of Bonita now.

"I asked Hall to leave me at the station," said Dina.

"We'll have to do something about all this," the housekeeper said hurriedly as they parted.

"Thank you a thousand times for being so good to me!" Dina had to climb past her companion to leave the car, and suddenly Mrs. Bucket drew her down and kissed her wet face.

* * *

"Mr. Holland has your address?" she asked. "Yes, I know he has You'll hear from me. Good night!"

It was midnight. Dina picked her way carefully through wide, shallow puddles and heaps of refuse.

Long familiar with its limitations, Dina noiselessly entered the kitchen and in the warm atmosphere of grease and pipe smoke and coffee began rapidly to undress.

She was clad only in her undermost garment and carrying the others over her bare arm when she went into the bedroom.

A little groping under the curtain that hung at an angle across one corner of the room secured her nightgown. A dim shaft of light from the adjoining room and a step beside her made her start.

"Mama? Goodness, you scared me!"

Mrs. Cashman was carrying a candle; she shaded its light with a lean, ungroomed hand.

"Dina, have a good time?" she whispered.

"Oh, fine." It all seemed like a dream now and almost as hard to recall as a dream.

"Where were you?"

"Up Burlingame way." Mama thought, of course, that it had been just one more dining and dancing party with the neighborhood group. Dina hoped she never would think differently.

"What I got up to tell you was that Lou was real sick," her mother said. "I moved her in here because nothing would do but that she had to sleep in Dina's bed."

"Sick!" Dina stood still in dismay. Lou was her favorite among the sisters; the pale, anemic, undernourished small girl of ten had always seemed to draw actual strength and vitality from Dina.

"What was the matter?"

"Oh, her cold is worse and she felt real hot. We had some pork sausage and hot cakes, but she didn't eat much. Dooley said they'd had some cakes over to Bridges'."

"Ah, the poor little thing!" Dina, by candlelight, sank on her knees beside the bed, her practiced hands inside the collar of Lou's flannel pajamas. "She's good and damp; she hasn't any fever," she whispered.

"No, I think she's all right. But my gracious, what crying and carrying-on when she came in for supper and found you'd gone! She didn't want anyone but Dina; I think she cried for a good hour. Pop was in here and everybody, trying to comfort her. She certainly thinks the world and all of you."

"Lou, my little old sweet," Dina murmured, her cheeks against the damp, cool little face. The drowsy child stirred and mumbled contentedly. "Has she been coughing. Mama?" Dina asked.

"Not like she was last night. Well, I'll go back," Mrs. Cashman said, yawning. "I'm glad you had a good time"

"You came back, Dina," Lou muttered, clinging tight.

"Of course I came back, you silly! What were you crying about?"

"Becuz I missed you so." The thick, hoarse little voice dwindled away. "Don't go 'way again, Dina," Lou whispered. "I cry when you're not here."

"I'll be right here." Dina was kneeling beside the bed; now she drew an old blanket about her shoulders and settled on her knees, holding Lou's little relaxed hand against her cheek.

* * *

Dina, holding her little sister's hand, knelt motionless for a long while. She thought, with an ache as keen as physical pain in her heart, of this child's love for her and that she had betrayed her. Lou needed her; her mother needed her; Dooley and Myrna, just beginning to grow up in the disorder and danger of the Flats, needed her.

With all its poverty, crampedness, and ughness, still this was home. These were the rooms she knew, the chairs and beds and plates and towels; these were her own people. They turned to her. Dina could do it; Dina could fix it; Dina could make them laugh, could find the right touch to make any meal satisfying, could solve their school problems.

And now the curse of womankind lay heavy upon her. Now she must carry within her for long, slow months the very proof of weakness, of unforgivable stupidity. Life would not forgive her and time would not forgive her. For that one hour of forgetting the law she would pay all her life long, through all the days to come, and an innocent human being would pay, too; be shamed, be marked, be set apart.

A child! Her spirit writhed away from the thought of it. A little boy like Donny or a tiny, delicate girl like Lou, the Lou whose small, sweating body was lying against her arm. Small shoes to be tied; small mouth into which cereal must be spooned; little questions coming along, harder and harder to answer. Her child!"

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1942.

The time has come when people have got to realize that they have to stop working for wage increases and work instead for production increases.—William H. Davis.

Rickenbacker's Timely Message

THE EARNEST plea of Eddie Rickenbacker may be more effective in enlivening war action on the home front than all the information, urging and appeals to patriotism that preceded it.

In the eyes of all America Captain Rickenbacker is a hero. He was a flying ace in World War I and he is an aviation executive and areonautics adviser to the war department in this war.

Two months ago today the plane on which he and seven companions were flying over the Pacific went down at sea, and after a couple of weeks, most people gave them up as lost.

But, twenty-two days after their plane went down they were rescued from the small rubber life rafts in which they had kept afloat during the long days and nights of three weeks—practically without food, with only an occasional sip of water, and suffering through the intense heat of the days and cold of the nights.

Simply and unaffectedly Rickenbacker tells of these experiences, and of the death of one of his party. He also tells of their prayers and Bible reading during those harrowing days, and of his faith in eventual deliverance.

It is when he tells, however, of the hardships and suffering of the American boys at New Guinea and Guadalcanal, where his mission called him after his rescue, that he makes strongest appeal for all-out effort at home, so that everything possible may be done to hasten needed fighting equipment and supplies to the men who are bearing the brunt of battle.

"If only the people back home could know," he said, "we'd take this war lots more seriously. . . . I have come to the conclusion that if they brought the combat troops back here and put them in the factories, and had the factory workers replace them in the field, we could double production in 30 days time."

Such a message as was given by Eddie Rickenbacker yesterday was needed in administration circles in Washington, by workers in all war production industries, by everyone who has felt annoyed by rationing restrictions or difficulties in securing some commodities, and by those who have failed to buy bonds to the extent of their ability or neglected civilian tasks associated with the war effort.

"Remember what Eddie Rickenbacker said," might be a good slogan when a strike or slow-down is brewing, or when anyone seems inclined to do less than his utmost—until the war has been won.

Repository's Unbroken Record Ended

SOMETHING has happened in Canton that can never be undone. A strike of workers in one department of that city's newspaper—The Repository—ended the long record of 127 years during which there had never been a failure to print and distribute regular editions of the paper.

Those not associated with the publication of a newspaper may not be able to realize the importance which newspapermen attach to such an occurrence—or the lengths to which every employe is accustomed to go, in time of emergency, to make sure that subscribers will not be disappointed by failure to receive their paper.

Floods, fires, explosions and other forms of disaster occur from time to time and make publication extremely difficult—sometimes seemingly impossible—but when such things occur the spirit of willing co-operation is so strongly manifested by every employe in every department that, in some way, a paper is printed—even if only a single sheet—so that the record of uninterrupted publication can be maintained.

Mansfield has had several such experiences in its record of newspaper publication, one memorable instance having occurred around thirty-five years ago when an explosion at a power house then located on North Main street interrupted electric service for several days. Hand-set type was resorted to for the first day; then several motorcycles were rigged up to supply driving power for linotypes and a steam engine was returned to service in running the press. Day and night work was required—but there was the later satisfaction of knowing that everybody had "pulled together" and that no edition of the paper was missed.

Canton, of course, will not go long without a newspaper. Differences will be settled and employes who went out on strike will return to work. But the fine record of 127 years of continuous publication has been broken beyond repair.

Spinning Wheels Waste Rubber

MORE than mere inconvenience is being experienced by Mansfield motorists this winter when ice or snow prevents them from starting cars up even a slight incline from curb parking places.

When worn-out tires could be readily replaced the extent to which wheels were spun in an effort to gain traction was no more than exasperating and time-wasting, but it is different now—when present tires must be made to last indefinitely—and the extent to which rubber has been worn away in Mansfield during the past few days in sometimes futile efforts to pull away from the curb is a serious matter.

It is being suggested that an old-time custom of removing snow from streets in th business sections be revived, in which activity it would seem quite proper to use some of the surplus from parking meter revenues, if necessary.

'Bounding Basque' Sees the Light

JEAN BOROTRA is in the news again. Tennis-lovers who followed the French team that years ago took the Davis Cup away from this country will remember Borotra, "the bounding Basque," and the general air of commotion he gave to the tennis courts. Lately he has been director of sports for the Vichy government, thereby greatly grieving his admirers the world over.

Now Borotra has balked at Vichy's continual subservience to Hitler, and resigned from the Petain-Laval payroll. On the old principle which still holds, "better late than never," he will be welcomed to the fold of fighters for freedom.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus—although you may find that his sister is substituting in some parts of the country this year.

Franco's Influence In S. A. Fading

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON — Generalissimo Franco, Spain's dictator, played smash with whatever influence he may have possessed in Latin America by wishing good luck to Herr Hitler the other day, in Adolf's fight with the United Nations.

General Franco

Spain always has rated pretty much as a parent land to the republics south of the Rio Grande. Brazil, to be sure, is of Portuguese rather than Spanish parentage. Still, the relationship's pretty close. The rest of 'em primarily were of pure Spanish origin, today considerably diluted, here and there, by Indian blood, and in a few spots by quite an admixture of African.

Spain, however, is in a big majority. There are 20 Latin Americas and 19 of 'em are of Spanish descent, to one Portuguese, qualified by the strain just referred to.

Now, of these 20 Latin Americas, 18 have at least broken relations with the Axis and are in sympathy with the United Nations and the United States in particular, and the biggest of the 18 definitely have declared war against the Nazis and affiliates.

The exceptions, that haven't even broken relations, as already has been widely advertised, are Argentina and Chile.

Arrests In Argentina.

Chile, as I've had occasion to state previously, isn't pro-Axis, but is waiting for a Yankee pledge of protection of its coast against raids by the Japs. I've a suspicion that Argentina has been a wee bit pro-German, but it's getting over it as a matter of business policy. It can't but have noticed that the Buenos Aires government has been pinching Nazi agents of late and deporting or interning 'em. It wouldn't have been doing that a while back.

To return, though, to the case of Caudillo Franco—

The caudillo has long been known as a Spaniard quite of Fuehrer Hitler's political type. Spain got into an economic jam, from which a civil war started. Francisco grabbed his chance to install himself dictatorially. He was about as prompt at it as Adolf was in Germany, but the Spanish liberals fought him harder than the Germans opposed Hitler. Nevertheless, Franco licked 'em, but it was by a narrow squeak. He isn't any too firmly intrenched yet.

Spain geographically is a mightily convenient taking-off point for Germany into northwestern Africa—toward well-known Dakar, especially.

If Adolf had suggested the notion early in the game, when his luck was relatively good, it's a good bet that Franco would have acquiesced — but, as of to date, seemingly the caudillo's slightly skeptical. He extends no invitations.

Well, a short while ago, Francisco had a 50th birth anniversary.

Adolf sent him an extremely sugarly message of congratulation.

Franco wasn't sufficiently 100 per cent to fall for this on the basis of military co-operation, but he did reply with international best wishes.

It's doubtful that Spain agrees with him.

It's a cinch that Spanish-America doesn't.

You hear it there at every gathering of Latin American representatives. And now they have such confabs daily. They're attended by foreign ministers and outright presidents occasionally.

Friend or Enemy?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THOSE 'teen age youngsters—why are they hellions?

Maybe you're wondering. There are your own Junior and Sister. Such darling babies they were once. Simply adorable. So cunning and good. Never the least bit naughty. But lately—heaven knows why—they've changed completely. Became Perfect Demons. Fly off the handle at the least little thing, disobey, think that no one understands them, sulk for hours. One scene after another—it's driving you C-R-A-Z-Y.

And after all you've done . . . slaved and sacrificed . . . this is the thanks you get!

Yes, Comrade Parent, this is the thanks you get.

And, nine times out of ten—it's exactly what you deserve!

All right . . . all right . . . get mad if you want. But I'm telling you the truth. As cradle-tenders we parents usually rate all the blue ribbons. But when Snooky-ukums outgrows his cuteness and develops into a pimply, peevish adolescent, we all too frequently become petty tyrants—stupid, conceited, incredibly cruel.

We proudly boast and honestly believe that "a parent is his child's best friend." But the plain truth is that most of us remain friendly to our children only as long as it suits our convenience, flatters our egotism and doesn't tax our intelligence. As soon as the association calls for real understanding and self-control, we blow up.

The late great psychologist, W. Beran Wolfe, once said:

"No adolescent child is a very pleasant companion and often he is so disagreeable and stubborn that it is almost impossible to live with him."

With which statement thousands of parents will enthusiastically agree. But they should go further and ask WHY the adolescent child is not a pleasant companion. It is because he is facing the most critical period of his life—the racking travail of his second birth—into maturity.

Yesterday he was an irresponsible baby . . . Today he is a stranger, even to himself. Sensitive, suspicious and pitifully bewildered, he blunders about . . . seeking his real self, through torturing embarrassments and terrifying adventures. No wonder he's "hard to live with."

But just where does this put the average parent . . . the quick-tempered father who is accustomed to having his own way . . . the self-indulgent, sentimental mother who is inclined to dodge responsibility?

IT PUTS THEM ON THE SPOT!

It was easy to appear a successful father as long as one could achieve obedience with a cuff on the ear or a bellowed command. It was fun to be a mother as long as one could play doll-baby . . . buy one's way with candy and kisses.

But now parenthood becomes a real job. Cuffs and kisses no longer serve. Respect and loyalty can no longer be BOUGHT. They must be won!

And how many parents have what it takes after years of unquestioned dominance?

How many parents are humble enough to stand back, forget themselves — watch, wait and learn? How many are brave enough to see themselves as their child sees them, in his sudden ruthless awakening to reality? How many—doting mothers particularly—are generous enough to allow the child to make these decisions and experiments which are indispensable to character building?

NOT MANY!

Indeed, most of us go into a prolonged tantrum of resentment and self-pity. Frantically we try to retain the old baby relationship rather than face the new challenge and take it out on the youngster when we fail!

THEN WE WONDER WHY THE CHILD REGARDS US AS HIS WORST ENEMY RATHER THAN HIS BEST FRIEND!

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, Dec. 21, 1922.

First trip was made on bus line between Mansfield and Ashland.

Charles J. List, 86, retired gardener, and philanthropist, died at his home east of Mansfield.

Miss Lestia Young and Albert Hamman were married by Rev. Foster C. Andersen.

Dr. Charles Baer and family moved from Ashland road into newly completed home on Carpenter road.

S. Glenn Vinson told of recent trip around the world at meeting of Baptist Brotherhood.

Mrs. Besse Buchanan resigned as stenographer at the Freundlich store.

Interpreting the War News

Steady Gain In Allied Air Power Causes Fear In Axis Countries

—By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

INDICATIONS the Axis peoples are becoming apprehensive over the decline of their air power are apparent in the information they are passing out.

The Tokyo radio has lately come through with a highly imaginative account of how "huge formations" of Japanese fighters and bombers smashed American air fields in China and nipped a plot to bomb Japan on the anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

"This should be sufficient to smash the enemy propaganda that Japanese air strength on the China front has been weakened of late," it was added.

All this hints strongly the air raid on Tokyo and other Japanese cities last spring caused far greater panic than was generally supposed. It bespeaks a very real need for assurance by the Tokyo government that it will not happen again.

The German communiques consistently have minimized their own air losses in Africa while exaggerating ours. At the same time, the tendency has been to treat the air fighting there as of small consequence and create the impression that the Luftwaffe is sweeping all before it on the Russian front.

Undoubtedly, the Luftwaffe has many planes on the Russian front. But that the Soviets could carry on offensive operations, as the Germans admit they do, in the face of such complete Nazi domination of the air is incredible. Those accounts sound more like an attempt to maintain the German people's faith in what they had been told was Goering's invincible air force.

For a long time it has been obvious the German airforce was losing strength relatively and perhaps absolutely. The story, doubtless launched by the Nazis themselves, floated about that the Nazis would soon come forth with hosts of new, improved planes.

Even the German people must know that is fiction.

* * *

WHATEVER the Luftwaffe's strength, we know certainly it is below what Hitler desperately needs. He was forced to let Rommel make his flight across Libya without air protection. Protection of the German home front is inadequate, and a recent London report credits the Nazis with abandoning airfields close to the channel, apparently because planes were not available to use them.

Recent reports from Guadalcanal of an air raid on the Japanese base at Buin without meeting air opposition stirred speculation the Japanese were massing their air strength somewhere for a major offensive.

At any rate, there are ample indications of the Japanese air force's deterioration in quality and inadequacy in numbers.

Japan's production of planes in the first year of the war is believed to have been about equal to the number she lost.

It could be that public fear of air raids is forcing retention of many of those newer planes in the Japanese isles.

Congress to Use 'War Necessity' As Excuse to Balk Left Wingers

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—There is more than a hint of trouble for the extreme left wingers in the administration as one hears congressional leaders talk about plans for the next two years. It is not news that the Republicans in the house, plus the conservative southern Democrats, can beat anything they want to beat.

The present thought of some of the best minds in these two groups, however, is not to bother with tongue lashings for the various reforms of the New Deal.

"Our plan," grinned one important house leader to the writer, "is to praise their motives, their objectives, and even their plans for carrying out those objectives. We are going to shed crocodile tears over the necessity of applying every possible cent of public money to the war effort. We will tell them we are terribly sorry, but that all of their reforms which require money, or manpower — which means clerks and stenographers, not to mention executives—will simply have to wait until Uncle Henry Morgenthau is better heeled.

"We are going to say 'so sorry' so often that I bet the left wingers will be calling us Japanese before the end of the session of the new congress which is to meet in January.

Hypocrites For Cause.

"If you mention my name I will deny that I ever saw you, much less said it, but the plain fact is going to be that some of us, including yours truly, are going to be just as hypocritical when we say 'so sorry' about there not being funds for this or that worthy social objective as the Japs are when they use that phrase.

"Incidentally nothing like all of us feel that way, but most of us are delighted with any good excuse to chop the purse strings for all this super regulation aimed at making people live like the left wingers think they ought to live. A lot of us, on both sides of the aisle which divides the Democrats and Republicans, have thought so for a long time. But only a very small minority of us has had the political courage to say so, and to vote so. We thought the New Deal had the voters solidly behind it.

Revolution In Opinions.

"Now most of us believe that the voters are sour on the New Deal. I am not sure the voters are sour on Roosevelt, but the people in a good many congressional districts seem to be delighted to smack down New Deal reforms, even while they profess to be strong for the president. I am not talking now about the war effort. I never saw the people, all over the country, so united on any issue as that. It's a lot better than World War No. 1 from that standpoint. But all these questionnaires, and the drafting of their boys while the administration protects social workers on the government payrolls as 'essential,' not to mention rationing and a few other annoyances, have produced a revolution.

"The last election proved it, and there are some of my colleagues who think the tide has turned so strongly that even FDR might be beaten in 1944, though I do not go that far.

"But we are going to get help in congress from men who will really be distressed to see some of these reforms choked off at the payroll. They agree with us, however, that we simply can't spare the money and the manpower for them for the duration."

Timely Editorial

There Was Good Reason.

Many have wondered how an ancient air-mariner like Eddie Rickenbacker just happened, as it appeared, to run out of gas.

A crew member now has explained. The plane was a survivor of a Dec. 7, 1941, Jap machine-gunning and, though patched and pronounced airworthy, her instruments began to fail when in mid-ocean. Navigation, of the precision necessary to make an island landfall, was impossible and presently the gas tanks were empty.

Eddie didn't just go out and get lost over an ocean, even an ocean as large as the Pacific. We knew there must be some good reason for it, and so there was!—Detroit News.

First Christmas

—By ANNE CAMPBELL

A baby cannot see the flowers
That spring to bloom when she is born.
A baby cannot count the hours
Till Christmas morn.

But on the porch, a Christmas tree
Waits with its tufted branches bowed,
And soon beneath its witchery,
She'll laugh aloud!

Our keen delight in holidays,
The childish happiness we knew,
Rekindle in the infant gaze
Of Martha Lou!

Our baby's first sweet Christmas comes,
And for a while we shall be gay,
For her we'll sing and beat the drums
On Christmas Day.

Forgetting for a little space
A tangled world, by war defiled,
Finding God's blessing and His grace
In one dear child!

A Farmer's Diary

Free Press?

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I DON'T understand about this lawsuit between U. S. government and the Associated Press," said a farmer friend, to me. "What's back of it? Is it anything for us farm folk to be concerned about?"

"Well—yes. I'd say it ought to concern every United States citizen who reads the newspapers. Such a suit could happen only in this country, and before it is settled it will very likely go to the highest court of the land. So, if you like an occasional fireside scrap, hitch up your chair and I'll tell you what went on before you came in.

"Until a year ago, the only morning daily in Chicago was the Chicago Tribune. That great newspaper has more than a million daily readers, and up until Pearl Harbor it was an isolationist influence.

"Last winter, President Roosevelt's friend, Marshall Field, III, a newcomer in the newspaper business, who inherited great wealth from his grandfather's Chicago merchandising firm, started a newspaper to compete with the Tribune, The Chicago Sun. Robert McCormick, publisher of the Tribune, dubbed the newcomer an 'interventional political organ.'

Then the Sun applied for membership in the Associated Press and was not accepted. At once the U. S. department of justice sued the Associated Press, claiming it was a monopoly and should be compelled to serve every newspaper that desired service and would pay for it.

"Now the Associated Press is a co-operative institution. As in a big lodge or grange, one member can blackball any other paper seeking to enter that he judges not eligible. It has a wonderful staff of reporters, all over the world, and every newspaper belonging to it may use any material the AP sends out, at rates based upon its own circulation. Its two biggest competitors are United Press and International News Service.

"The crux of the matter is, will the U. S. government through the courts, compel AP to serve the Chicago Sun—and become a "common carrier?" Can a business firm decide for itself whom it will work for—or not?

"A group of smaller newspapers, members of AP but not much in sympathy with the Tribune, fear that the scrap between the two big dailies will obscure in the public mind the danger to the little papers. 'Is there more promise for the democratic form of government if the stream of news is watched over by an arm of the national government or if news gatherers are given free rein?' they ask.

Follow this trial, and keep on your thinking cap. How do you want your newspaper?

SEES INDUSTRY MOVING WEST IN POST-WAR ERA

St. Louis Man Says It Was Mistake to Center Plants In East.

OMAHA, Neb —(INS)— More industries will be located in the Mississippi valley area after the war.

That was the belief expressed by Lachlan Macleay of St. Louis, Mo, president of the Mississippi Valley association in Omaha recently.

The Mississippi Valley association is a super Chamber of Commerce organization of midwestern cities whose object is to see that more industries are brought to the midcontinent area. Not only the winning of the war, but also the nation's post-war economic success are dependent on such a move, Macleay declared.

"The nation cannot maintain its place in world trade competition after the war unless factories for processing farm products are located in the midcontinent area," he said.

Macleay also expressed the opinion that a great mistake had been made in locating so many war factories on the eastern seaboard, far from the midwest's supplies of iron, coal and oil. Fuel shortage has aggravated the situation.

The association which he heads, Macleay explained to members of the Omaha regional group, has worked out a program which includes extension of federal barge lines on the Missouri to Omaha and Sioux City At present the Defense Plants corporation is trying to obtain permission from the government to have barges and power boats built.

Another aim of the association, he said, is to coordinate rail and water transportation so that cities inland from river terminals can obtain the benefits of lower water rates.

"The main idea of the association is to sell the government on the practicability of locating industries in the midcontinent area, where the iron- coal, oil and other raw materials are produced," Macleay told association members representing Missouri river communities in Iowa and Nebraska

In connection with the association's plans for barge transportation on the Missouri, Omaha business men assured Macleay that they were ready to build a termined on 60 days' notice should equipment be obtained

WEDDING DATE SET BY VIRGINIA LEE MOORE

Will Exchange Vows With William Abele On Jan. 8; Ceremony Will Take Place In St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

MR. AND MRS. LEE MOORE, 217 Marlow road, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Virginia Lee, to William Abele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abele, 207 Vennum avenue. The wedding will take place Jan. 8 in St. Paul's Lutheran church. Rev. H. L. Gilbert will officiate for the closed church ceremony.

Both Miss Moore and her fiance are graduates of Mansfield Senior high school. She is employed in the office at Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company and is a member of Sigma Kapp. Gamma sorority. Mr. Abele is employed in the office of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. He attended Ohio university at Athens, where he became a member of Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Seven of Miss Moore's friends learned of her coming marriage at a party given by her mother on Dec. 17. The wedding was revealed on tiny scrolls hidden in red roses at the individual places when lunch was served. Those present for the party were the Misses Lois Smith, Dorothy Bergman, Joan Locke, Maxine Callihan, Barbara Chatlain, Mary Jackson and Mrs. Robert Lantz.

The Misses Bergman and Jackson were recipients of prizes in the card games. Mrs. Moore was assisted in serving by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Moore.

VOWS EXCHANGED IN METHODIST CHURCH

Miss Gladys Marie Wade Becomes the Bride of Sgt. Carl Schmahl, jr., In Ceremony Sunday Afternoon.

AT 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist church, George Wade escorted his daughter, Gladys Marie, to an altar banked with cedar boughs, white baskets of chrysanthemums and white gladioli and two seven-branch candelabra, and gave her in marriage to Sgt. Carl Schmahl, jr.

Rev. E. G. Corwin read the single ring ceremony at which nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Elsie Ireland. Her selections included "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding March."

The bride was attired in a white brocaded satin gown with sweetheart neckline and leg-o-mutton sleeves. A pearl tiara held her finger-tip veil in place. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bride's bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Catherine Eichler of Crestline, who is a sister of the bridegroom. She wore a rose taffeta gown, fashioned with a gathered bodice, full, gathered skirt and short puffed sleeves. Her tiara was of rose velvet. Her bouquet consisted of talisman roses and chrysanthemums. George E. Wade, jr., of Lucas, brother of the bride served as best man.

Usher at the wedding was Cpl. Richard Schmahl, brother of the bridegroom, who is stationed at New River, N. C.

Mrs. Wade was attired in a navy blue silk crepe ensemble with blue accessories. She wore a corsage of red rosebuds. Mrs. Schmahl, mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue silk frock with blue accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held at the bridegroom's home for 55 relatives and friends. Luncheon was served buffet style. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and soldier-groom was used as a centerpiece.

When the couple left for their wedding trip, the new Mrs. Schmahl was dressed in aqua wool with white angora trimming and brown accessories. When they return, Mrs. Schmahl will reside on Marion avenue and Sgt. Schmahl will return to his army air corps post at Hondo, Texas.

Mrs. Schmahl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wade, of Lucas. She is a graduate of Lucas high school and a secretary at Hoover's Station. Sgt. Schmahl, a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school was employed at Westinghouse before his induction. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schmahl, sr., 500 South Main street.

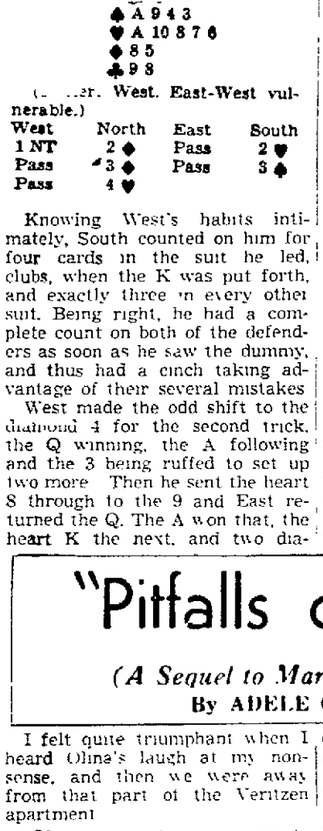
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

JUST TOO DEPENDABLE

It is all right to be a dependable partner. But if you get so dependable in certain matters that your opponents can always depend upon you too, a good card-reader on the other side may cash in on the knowledge you give him. This is especially true if your opening No Trump bids invariably show a 4-3-3-3 distribution. Varying that a little, sometimes making the bid with a five-card minor or with two four-card suits, can keep the enemy from knowing too definitely just how to play against you.



(Dealer. West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 NT	2 ♦	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♥

Knowing West's habits intimately, South counted on him for four cards in the suit he led, clubs, when the K was put forth, and exactly three in every other suit. Being right, he had a complete count on both of the defenders as soon as he saw the dummy, and thus had a cinch taking advantage of their several mistakes

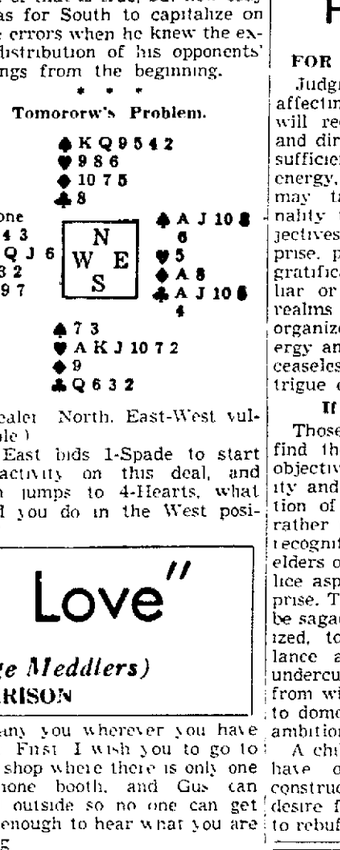
West made the odd shift to the diamond 4 for the second trick, the Q winning, the A following and the 3 being ruffed to set up two more Then he sent the heart 8 through to the 9 and East returned the Q. The A won that, the heart K the next, and two diamonds furnished discards of two spades, West tossing the club 6 and J. Then West was thrown in with the club 10 to the A, and he had only three spades left. So he had to lead into the combination tenace away from the spade K, South therefore getting two spades and his last trump for the closing three tricks.

The defenders made three mistakes. If West had led a second club at the start, he could not have been thrown in later with that suit. If East had led a spade to protect West's K, when he was in with the heart trick, or if he had shot along a second club, the spade K would have been protected. Or if West, in discarding on the two diamonds, had kept a smaller club, East could have been compelled to win that late club trick with the Q and then could have come through with a spade to save the K.

All of that is true, but how easy it was for South to capitalize on these errors when he knew the exact distribution of his opponents' holdings from the beginning.

* * *

Tomororw's Problem.



(Dealer North. East-West vulnerable.)

If East bids 1-Spade to start the activity on this deal, and South jumps to 4-Hearts, what would you do in the West position?

HOROSCOPE

FOR TUESDAY, December 22

Judging by the lunar transits affecting the affairs of this day it will require some clear thinking and direct action in order to reap sufficient returns for the capital, energy, and initiative invested. It may take ingenuity and originality to help win cherished objectives, whether in private enterprise, public position or domestic gratification or prosperity. Peculiar or tricky situations in all realms should be met with well organized strategies, vigorous energy and determination as well as ceaseless vigilance against intrigue or undercover attack.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find their best aim at attaining objectives by originality, ingenuity and very clear and direct action of a purely personal nature rather than through any hope of recognition or assistance from elders or higher-ups either in public aspirations or business enterprise. The attack on all lines must be sagacious, vigorous, well organized, together with eternal vigilance as to duplicity, fraud or undercurrent and sinister 'boring from within." This applies as well to domestic, social or professional ambitions

A child born on this day should have originality, practical and constructive talents, with sound desire for success, but may have to rebuff enmity and duplicity.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

I felt quite triumphant when I heard Olina's laugh at my nonsense, and then we were away from that part of the Veritzen apartment

"Please present my excuses to your mother," I said "Tell her I simply had to get back to my father once my errand was done, remind her that if she needs me for anything I am at her service."

Then she unbolted the chain, swung open the outer door and went with me to the outer corridor. The stalwart guard who had been on the alert when I came in moved toward us.

"Were you going down the corridor, Miss?" he asked

"Oh, no," Olina answered "I m just saying goodbye to my friend."

I found my apartment door ajar and my father opened it.

"I've been watching for you" he said. Then as he closed the door behind us, he lowered his voice.

"Georges is in your bedroom," he said. "I thought it less dangerous to keep him here than in the suite connecting with this by that camouflaged door. We can keep that door locked.

"I hope this arrangement will not inconvenience you, but it would be too dangerous to have him anywhere else.

"I cannot leave here," he said "Harry promised Lillian he would not leave the Underwood home, as a message from Marion's captors might come there, and Richard and Ronald have gone with Carolyn. That leaves you as the only errand boy I can trust in this emergency.

Gus Madge's Guard.

"The armored car is at the door," he said, "and Gus will accompany you wherever you have to go First I wish you to go to some shop where there is only one telephone booth, and Gus can stand outside so no one can get near enough to hear what you are saying

"Then call Harry Underwood Don't speak Georges' name, but tell Harry we have a man with us who wants to have wig and beard adjusted Ask him to send us the best man he knows in makeup, and have the man bring everything he needs with him

"Then I wish you and Gus to go to- - - Street and - - - Avenue, go into the street entrance of the hotel and up in the elevator to the eighth floor, the only one above the street level where there is any connection between the two wings of the hotel. But first ask at the desk where the dining room is, and you will be told it is on the eighth floor—just for the benefit of anyone who may be trailing you.

Purchases to Be Made.

"In the dining room, which has two entrances, ask for Martel — one of my listening posts. Show him your card, then leave by the other entrance, go down the other elevator and into the drugstore on the corner. Make the purchases you will find listed on this paper, then walk around the block to the haberdashery named and make the other purchases listed Gus will carry the parcels Then go to where you left the car, and come back here

When he paused, I moved toward the closet where I keep my outdoor clothing

"I take it you want me to go at once," I said, feeling a bit as if I were Alice in Wonderland.

U. S. TRAINING SKI TROOPERS

Men at Colorado Camp Get Lessons In Snow Where Winter Is Severe.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—(INS)—"We climb to conquer" is the motto of the ski troops stationed at the new Camp Carson in the high hills near Pikes Peak.

The cantonment complete with four ski lifts, special insulated barracks and modern cold weather equipment to keep Uncle Sam's soldiers warm will be ready when the snow is deep enough for skiing, declared Onslow S. Rolfe.

Col. Rolfe said the duty roster of his company, reads like an entry list for a winter sports meet. Hundreds of the country's top ranking skiers and famous mountain guides are among the personnel.

The men receive no extra pay for the hazardous job of working and fighting at highest altitudes in all kinds of bitter winter weather, Col. Rolfe explained, yet they are eager to swap their summer equipment of horses and mules for the long hickory runners on which they will haul fighting equipment up steep slopes, and practice night scouting raids and other maneuvers.

Oddly enough, Rolfe has had no experience in winter fighting, or the training of ski troops

Throughly grounded in infantry tactics, a graduate of West Point and decorated in the last World war, he had to learn ski fighting from the ground up, and attended ski classes like any enlisted man

PLAN SET UP

Volunteers to Distribute Yule Baskets Thursday.

Distribution of Christmas baskets to 68 needy Mansfield families will be made by the Volunteers of America, Thursday, at 9.30 a. m. at the organization headquarters, 290 North Main street.

Capt. R. L. Gutterman said today that baskets would be given to 13 families adopted through the Give-a-Christmas clearing house channels and that an additional 25 baskets, made possible by a check for $150 presented to the Volunteers by the D minion Electric Manufacturing company, would also be distributed to worthy families.

Baskets filled by the Volunteers will be worth $6, Gutterman said, and will contain sufficient food not only for the holiday but for the Sunday meal after Christmas.

Chickens and hams will go into the baskets and also canned goods based upon the number in each family.

Forecasts Little Chance Of Fewer Traffic Lights

Elimination of raffic lights until victory comes is a remote possibility Friend C. Boals, traffic commissioner, indicated today.

Boals told that some cities have "blacked out" up to 30 per cent of street signal lights as a means of saving wear on tires and gasoline consumption during temporary stops and startings, said he has been studying the issue but so far can find no solution.

Red and green lights at school sites are being shut off at 4:30 p. m. and turned on in the mornings in time to protect students crossing the streets in semi-darkness, Boals said.

"This practice has attracted some criticism," the commissioner said, reporting that a woman living near one of the schools had telephoned him yesterday bitterly protesting the part-time signal service

"I always make a thorough study preceding such moves," Boals advised his caller, "and when something's done it stays done until wide proof that an alteration is necessary is presented." That ended that argument, he said

Recently in the downtown area the plan of turning out lights at midnight was attempted without success. Several accidents resulted, and several collisions which could have had tragic results were narrowly averted. Boals explained. Now the lights are illuminated throughout the night.

"Mohawk" is the name of a new high-quality baking potato introduced by the Cornell University Agricultural Experiment Station.

YULE DINNER FOR CUB SCOUTS

Big Attendance at North Park Pavilion for Festivities.

For the Christmas party of Cub Pack 1 at the North Lake Park pavilion recently a new attendance record was set by 112 cubs and their families being present in comparisn to the usual 30.

A covered dish dinner was served with Hugh Ward as chairman for the evening. Christmas carols were sung by the boys under the direction of Mrs Ward and accompanied by Mrs. Hugh Meilinger. In addition to the gift exchange each cub gave his mother a present he had made during den meetings. Den 3 enacted a playlet entitled, "The Night Before Christmas."

Welcomed into the pack as new members were, John Fernyak, Tom Garrison Ralph Balph, Loyal Bemiller, Irven Elsass and Robert George Advancement awards were presented to the following boys by C G. Knarr, cubmaster. Jim Skeen, Wolf badge; Cliff Knarr, Bear gold arrow; Don Elias, Lion badge, Ed Macey, Lion gold arrow; Allen Meilinger, Wolf gold arrow; Charles Marchant, Bear gold arrow, Robert Harlos, Bear badge; and William Schultz who was presented the Webelos badge and graduated into scouting as a member of Troop 2.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

You Can't Print That!

(A compendium of tales that can't be told with names, because they're too true to print. If you find in them any resemblance to actual persons, living or dead — you've probably guessed right!)

The heroine of this brief tale is a famous motion picture actress. She's been around a long time, but she still looks young enough to be an ingenue.

Recently she gave up her screen work—with no fanfare at all—to devote all her time to selling bonds. She's at it 12 to 14 hours a day, charming her public into emptying their pockets for Uncle Sam.

Kilgallen

She's been working too hard, really. Her doctor has urged her to take a rest, but she refuses. You see, she has a terribly personal interest in winning this war—her 20-year-old son is fighting in the Solomons.

But you can't print that. It's her secret — for as long as she wants to keep it.

* * *

If you've heard about Marjorie—and I assure you, you have—you must think "There is one of the luckiest girls in the world." And of course you'd be right. But in a way, you'd be terribly wrong.

Marjorie, as you know, is a 20th century Cinderella, if there ever was one. Born into obscurity and poverty, she pole-vaulted the well-known ladder of success in a flash. She is one of Hollywood's biggest box office draws, has been for about five years now, although her acting ability has never made a movie reviewer compare her to Cornell or Bette Davis, either.

Several years before Marjorie found she was fated for success—in the period when she was a vocalist in a band—she fell in love with a handsome maestro. His family didn't think she was "good enough" for him. He was a college grad and wore a pin that showed he belonged to the most exclusive fraternity and always got invited to the best parties. She, on the other hand, had never finished high school; she had been a waitress and a showgirl. But the boy loved her and after several stormy separations and blissful reconciliations, he married her despite his mother's objections and the advice of his best friends.

I don't suppose there were ever two happier people than Marjorie and her maestro — let's call him George. Even when Marjorie became a big star, he didn't resent the fact that her importance had surpassed his completely. He was proud of her. And she loved him very much.

Financially, Marjorie was very sensible about her success. She saved her money, and didn't try to buy all the jewelry and furs in the world, and if a dress cost too much she'd find another one that she liked almost as well that cost a lot less. After several years, she could afford to build her Dreams-Come-True house — a place for George in the months he could spend with her when his band was appearing on the coast.

Everything George had ever mentioned he wanted in a home was in the House that Marge Built. And when it was finished, Marjorie and George went out in the back yard and both pressed their palms down on the fresh sidewalk, and Marjorie took a stick and printed in the soft, new cement, "I Love You. We'll Go Through Life Hand In Hand."

Well just a year later, George and Marjorie found, as others have sadly found before them, that the spell was broken. They just didn't like each other any more, and they weren't even alarmed enough about it to bother with a good, healthy argument. And so they were divorced.

George has since remarried. His new wife is a beautiful lass who doesn't know a thing about show business, and they recently had a baby. Marjorie is still a big, big star. But not long ago she packed her bags and told her maid to call the chauffeur. She was moving out of that big beautiful house and into a small hotel

When the chauffeur came, he found Marjorie sitting on the ground in her back yard, her face red and swollen, tears streaming out of her eyes. She was looking, he told the maid later, in puzzled wonder at a marked up piece of pavement, as if it were the saddest, most tragic thing in the world.

But you can't print that. People would think Marjorie was carrying a torch for her ex-husband, and she really isn't at all. She's carrying a torch for a time when simple and uncomplicated by success.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — Taking dial luck on the other machine the other eve, I drew a couple of numbers side by side which represent the contrasting extremes in war songs.

The first was a drippy ditty, sung in a yearnful contralto, about a gal who was missing her doughboy (or gob or devildog or pilot, it wasn't clear) who apparently was off to the wars. "No one else will take your place, Dear, while we are apart," the singer whined. "This will be a lonesome summer without you, Sweetheart." There followed some rhymed sentimentality about those "Wednesday night movies" and a lot of other stuff little Goldilocks would be missing this lonesome summer without you, Sweetheart, until the inclination was strong to switch it off and try to find some news.

Coons

* * *

Then when the dirge was over there came on a cheerful, go-get-'em little number about Rosie, the Riveter. Rosie had a boy friend in the service, too, but Rosie was riveting at a war plant—and Rosie had spunk and spirit and was sinking her earnings into War Bonds, and hastening the day when the boy friend would end her lonesome summers, which Rosie didn't mention.

Well, I liked Rosie and I wanted to turn off the lonesome whiner but when I hear Dinah Shore talk about songs I'm not so sure. Dinah is the service men's vocal Beatrice Fairfax, and when Dinah finishes reading her mail she opines that what the boys want to hear is songs that remind them of home, not songs about guns and battles.

Dinah gets specific requests from the boys. They want sentimental ballads, folk songs, melodies with memories. They seldom want boogie woogie, or hot swing tunes, or modernistic compositions—and even less often do they want flag-waving songs.

"Too often," says Dinah, "there's a pathetic angle to their letters—not that the boys are asking for sympathy. Here's what I mean. A marine on Guadalcanal wrote asking me to sing a certain ballad. Said he hadn't heard from his girl in months, but he knew she listened to me, and there were associations and memories connected with the song. He said he knew when she heard me sing it, she would think of him and maybe write to him."

WORKER ADMITS STABBING RIDE SHARER IN ROW

Four Other Men Watch Fatal Fight Over How To Unload Tricks.

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Chief Deputy Sheriff Ralph Garner said first degree murder charges probably would be filed today against William Kitchen, 55, who confessed that he stabbed William N. Dummitt, 22, Ashville, and left him to die.

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS — Deputy Sheriffs marked "closed" today to the case of the fatal stabbing of William Norris Dummitt, 22, Ashville, with announcement by Chief Sheriff's Deputy Ralph Garner that Willam Kitchen, 55, had confessed the deed.

Kitchen confessed, according to Garner, that he stabbed Dummitt, a fellow worker during a fight early Saturday morning in Route 665, near the Lockbourne air base and then drove away with four other men leaving Dummitt to die

Five men, who, with Dummitt formed a "share-the-ride" group from Ashville to the Buckeye Steel Castings company plant at Columbus, where all were employed, were arrested and held for investigation Saturday night after the body of the victim was found in a muddy snow-filled ditch earlier the same day.

Deputy sheriffs said the four men who were in the car were Emory C. Smith, 38, driver of the car; Emmett S. Scarberry, 38; William E. Miller, 54, and Charles F. Neff, 36, all of Ashville. They have been released.

Kitchen, who first denied the stabbing, finally broke down after hours of questioning, Garner said, and admitted the fatal culmination of the fight which started Friday at the plant over a method of unloading bricks. Garner said the men admitted "doing some drinking" after they got off at 11 p. m. Friday before starting for Ashville, the argument continued and the men stopped on the road to have it out. The men said they saw Kitchen and Dummitt engage in blows and then the younger man ran. Kitchen returned to the car without mentioning use of the knife and the five continued on home, according to Garner.

Coroner E. E. Smith said the man was stabbed by a long-bladed knife. Garner said that first degree murder charges probably will be filed today against Kitchen and that he will be arraigned before a justice of the peace.

GET 'WINGS'

47 Army, Navy Trainees Will Graduate Tonight.

Forty-seven army and navy elementary and secondary flight trainees who received their instruction at the Mansfield airport will get their "wings" at public graduation exercises at 8 p. m. today in John Simpson junior high school auditorium.

It will be the first public ceremony for graduates of the Mansfield flying school although a number of army and navy fliers have been trained here in recent months. The courses at the airport are sponsored by the Harrington Air service and the Mansfield board of education.

Presentation of the fliers' "wings" tonight will be by Capt. James R. Harrington, airport manager and head of the flight school. The response, or class dedication, will be given by Chief Petty Officer George Robert Anderson, Akron, member of the class.

Speakers will be Lieut. (s. g.) Elwood P. Miller, chief of the naval aviation cadet selection board of Detroit; Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller, and Mayor W. J. Locke.

PROBES DEATHS

Coroner Investigates After Finding Two Bodies in Apartment.

LIMA — (AP) — Coroner Harry Lewis said today he was investigating the deaths of Miss Olive Teegardin, 50, and Theodore Mehalis, 56, whose bodies were found in an apartment here over the week-end.

The coroner said death might have been due to food poisoning or asphyxiation, but withheld a verdict pending his investigation. He said a gas heater was burning in the apartment kitchen and the doors and windows were closed.

DEATH CLAIMS VETERAN GOLFER

Alex T. 'Pop' Davis Had Been President of N-J League; Funeral Wednesday.

Alex T. "Pop" Davis, 55, veteran Mansfield golfer and president of The News-Journal class B golf league at Possum Run, died this morning at his home, 224 Clairmont avenue, after a long illness.

Davis had played in the "B" league ever since its organization 10 years ago, served as president last season, and had been re-elected president for next year.

He became ill shortly after the close of the golf season this fall.

Born in Pigeon Run, O., March 5, 1887, he came to Mansfield in 1917 and was employed at the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company. For the past ten years he had been an inspector at the Westinghouse plant.

He was a member of First Christian church, Mansfield lodge No. 35, F. & A. M., and of the Fellowcraft club.

He is survived by his widow, Viola Slicker Davis, four daughters, Mrs. Merle Beer, Mrs. Earl Fox, Mrs. Harvey Heichel, all of Mansfield; and Betty Jane, at home; four sons, Pvt. Evan Davis, of Fort Knox, Ky.; Thomas, Alex jr., and George R. Davis, of Mansfield; two brothers, William of Swissvale, Pa., and David D. GO BACK TO BREWERY JOBS

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Approximately 300 CIO employes of four Columbus convicts who escaped work stoppage Saturday in protest over their failure to get a "cost of living" wage increase, were to go back to work today. A conference seeking settlement will be held later in the week.

MILLIONAIRE PLAYBOY'S BODY FOUND FLOATING NEAR MANSION

(By International News Service)

PALM BEACH Fla — They planned no inquest today in the death of Byron D. Chandler, once known on Broadway as "the million dollar kid" because of his profligate spending.

Four times divorced and now alone and forgotten, the 63-year-old Chandler, who made even blase Broadway gasp by his reckless and spectacular spending, shot himself on the pier of his showplace winter home. "The plantation," according to Police Lieut. L. O. Ecklund.

His body toppled into Lake Worth where a newspaper carrier later discovered it floating. A bullet wound was in his chest.

Chandler was said to have brooded since his conviction in Miami last year on a charge of sending a lewd letter through the mails. He also was reported to have been in ill health. He was under a suspended sentence of a year and a day, and had paid a $1,000 fine for postal violation.

He left letters addressed to his fourth wife, Betty West Chandler, who divorced him early this year, and to his lawyer, J. W. Salisbury.

When only 23, Chandler descended on Broadway's cabarets with a million dollar legacy from his grandfather and another million from his father, both of whom had been New England financiers.

He soon was vying with Harry K. Thaw, another playboy of that gay era. He entered a swank restaurant by crashing down through its plate glass dome, then promptly hauled out his wallet and demanded to know what the bill was for his unconventional entrance.

He was said to have ridden into the lobbies of staid Boston hotels on a horse on more than one occasion during his days at Harvard.

His fourth wife, the former Betty Jean West of Vincennes, Ind., whom he married in 1929, was reported on her way here from Hollywood. Funeral arrangements will be completed on her arrival

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. John Stone, 49, Dies at Home Near Lexington.

LEXINGTON — Mrs John Stone, 49, prominent worker in Grange and social activities in the Lexington community, died Sunday night at her home west of Lexington following a lingering illness.

Mrs. Stone was a native of Knox county, where she was born in January, 1893. She passed most of her life near Lexington.

The body was taken to the Snyder Funeral home in Lexington where services will be conducted Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., in charge of Rev. G. E. Chapin, pastor of the Congregational church. Burial will be in the Lexington cemetery.

Surviving are the husband; a daughter, Martha Jane Stone, at home; the mother, Mrs. Mary F. Temple, Lexington; two brothers, Fuller Temple, Lexington, and Harley Temple of Brecksville, and a half-brother, David Frasher, Deshler, O.

STRIKE ENDED

Riveters Go Back To Jobs At Cleveland, Lorain Shipyards.

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Ending a three-day wildcat strike, 100 AFL riveters went back to work today in the Cleveland and Lorain yards of the American Shipbuilding company.

The men had walked off their jobs when they claimed they weren't paid time and one-half for doing "dirty work" on lake boats. They agreed after a conference with the AFL Boilermakers union and Federal Conciliator Thomas W. Robertson to return to their jobs pending determination of what constitutes "dirty work."

When an unexpected plane circled Municipal airport Saturday night indicating that it would land, not only were all the field lights snapped on but cars were driven nearby to light up the runway. When the ship came to a stop, out stepped John Allen, who operated the Allen Flying service on Gage road before becoming a flight commander in an army primary school in South Carolina. He had flown his own ship here for a holiday visit.

A Mansfield postoffice official is recovering from a scare he had at home the other night. He told his wife to help herself to the money in his coat as she planned a Christmas shopping trip, but the money that had been drawn from the bank but a few hours before was not in the pocket and a thorough search for it throughout the house proved fruitless. A surprise awaited him at the postoffice the next morning however, because sticking to the back of his check book in his desk drawer, were the missing bills. And the official would still like to know how they got so firmly attached.

Forty families were surprised over the weekend to find sugar and a bit of coffee in the Christmas baskets furnished them by Senior high school pupils. Although these items were not on the list of foodstuffs needed, the pupils managed to find more than 100 pounds of sugar and 11 pounds of coffee to cheer someone during the holiday season. These baskets of food, 100 bushels in all, were delivered to needy families all day Friday. In addition, about five bushels of toys were collected for children.

U. S. SEEKS TO RELEASE FOOD FOR FIGHTERS

England, North Africa, India and Brazil Get Material For Victory Gardens.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Moving to release thousands of tons of canned vegetables to America's expeditionary forces and turn many U. S. soldiers into part-time farmers, the food distribution administration today announced the sending of tons of seeds to the United Nations for overseas victory gardens.

More than 50,000,000 pounds of American seed has been shipped abroad by the agricultural marketing administration, now a section of FDA since the beginning of the lend-lease program, it was revealed.

However, FDA, a unit in Claude R. Wickard's recently formed war food agency, also announced this new wrinkle in its seed program—the development of "seed kits" for English and other overseas victory gardens. The Allies have requested large quantities of these packages of bean, pea, cabbage, carrot, onion and radish seeds.

Already the British war relief society has bought 80,000 of these kits. Similar orders are in from the Russian war relief society, American Red Cross and other agencies.

Even American soldiers will grow victory gardens, FDA revealed. In lands without civilian populations or "where food habits are different," seeds will be cultivated by army men.

FDA authorities pointed out, however, that U. S. civilians cannot expect to reap any direct benefits from the seed program.

"Consumers will not get any of the canned food released by the overseas seed program," one FDA expert said "They will have the satisfaction, however, of knowing their boys are better fed because we are giving away seed to our Allies."

Air-borne vegetable seeds; in packages ranging from 100 to 500 pounds, have been prepared for, and sent to, India, Brazil, North Africa "and other distant points where the need was most urgent."

Barkley Asks For Congress Harmony In War Effort

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky called on the new congress today to bury factional differences in a harmonius support of the war effort which would leave the country united when the time comes to write the peace.

Republican minorities will climb to the highest point in years with convening of the new session on Jan. 6, but Barkley expressed confidence that would make no difference toward prosecution of the war.

While he conceded it was difficult to say that any political organization or group would not be politically minded or have its eye on the presidential year of 1944, he hoped and believed that it would be possible for the Democrats, Republicans and others to work more closely than ever in these critical times.

"The closer we come to victory and the visualization of the kind of peace we all hope for," he told reporters, "the more essential it is to have a united country."

BOY NEAR DEATH AFTER BEATING

Laborer Blamed in Injury To 4-year-Old Child.

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Near death today in St. Alexis hospital is 4-year-old James F. Jasiekiewize, who was severely beaten for marring a piano in the home of a 32-year-old laborer in whose care he was left while his mother worked.

Hospital attaches described the boy's condition as "poor," and said that his critical status was caused by "severe head injuries."

The child was shaken by the ears and shoulders, and then pushed against a table by the laborer, who then arranged furniture and an over-turned tricycle so as to make it appear that the child had fallen while playing, Detective Sergeant Martin Cooney said.

Bowling alley operators over the nation are looking askance these days at one, Leon Henderson, price administrator. They wonder why he announced one day a ceiling on bowling prices as of the highest rates charged during September, 1941, the next day announced his resignation as price administrator.

They recall that he had threatened some such action on bowling several months ago, and the fact that he finally decided to go ahead with it just before resigning might prompt them to get the idea this must be some pet whim of his.

And Eddie Linsz of Linsz Recreation in Cleveland, a high official in the national bowling alley operators association, says Henderson promised them he'd give them a chance to tell their side of the story before taking action, and he claims they have been given no such chance. In the meantime he advises alley operators to "sit tight" until they receive official notification.

* * *

No bowler who has taken the time and trouble to inquire into the matter will deny that the cost of alley operation has gone up since September, 1941.

Not only have the prices of pins, and materials used in keeping alleys in top shape, gone up, but pins are few and hard to get, and some of the important materials are not to be had at any price.

* * *

But in some parts of the country, bowling fees have gone up far beyond the bounds of reason, and undoubtedly Henderson had those places in mind in fixing the ceiling.

* * *

Many Mansfield bowlers probably will be surprised that the Henderson ceiling will not affect prices in Mansfield. As a matter of fact, the present 25 cents a line rate could be boosted three cents a line for open bowling and seven cents a match for league bowling under the Henderson ruling.

Just think back a minute. What was the highest price charged for bowling in Mansfield in September, 1941? It was 25 cents, wasn't it?

* * *

Mansfield keglers put up a real kick a year ago when the new owners of the Colony alleys announced the 25 cent rate. Several leagues voted to quit rather than accept the rate, and others threatened to. And the price went back to 20 cents. But the highest price in September was 25 cents, the rate which went back in effect this fall.

The keglers a year ago agreed that a lot of money had been spent in modernizing the alleys but they objected to new ownership coming to town and immediately hiking the price.

This year they realize that cost of operation has gone up, and there have been few complaints over the new rate.

* * *

I haven't talked to the Colony management about this. In fact I haven't seen Manager Al Vogel in more than a week. I just thought some of the boys might be surprised to learn that the ceiling price is already in effect here.

* * *

(P. S. Coincidence Dept.—The above column was written Saturday night for Monday use. And I ran into Vogel yesterday morning in a west end drug store, told him what I had writen. "Gosh" says he, "maybe you shouldn't have said anything about that." But I convinced him it probably would be all right.)

JACKETS PRACTICE

Ohio Cage Schedule Drops Off

Hoopsters Can't Compete With Holiday Spirit.

By GRANT DILLMAN
(United Press Sports Writer)

OHIO'S infant basketball season, unable to compete with the Christmas spirit for public favor, all but recesses during the coming week with only five contests scheduled.

Two of the five games will be played by unbeaten quintets. Bowling Green, winner of seven straight games, meets once-beaten Heidelberg Wednesday night, and Toledo, which dropped Youngstown from the select list last week, plays DePaul university Saturday.

* * *

Four other Ohio colleges are certain to retain clean slates until after the first of the new year and the start of the intensified basketball campaign. Capital university, with two victories; Mt. Union, three-time victor; and Otterbein and Wittenberg, with one win each, have no contests scheduled this week.

* * *

Bowling Green goes into its game with Heidelberg a clear-cut favorite. The Falcons last week defeated a hard-fighting Michigan Normal team, 64-47, and less than 48 hours later, trimmed Wayne university, 64-41, for their seventh consecutive triumph.

The Gee-Bees were led to both victories by Wyndol Gray, free wheeling freshman forward, who collected 27 points against Michigan Normal and added 25 more against Wayne. Heidelberg has defeated Fenn, loser of three games, and Ashland, which has won two and lost two. The Student Princes lost to Ohio Northern, 49-48 in their only defeat.

In other Ohio games, twice-defeated Muskingum tonight will meet Youngstown whose record was stopped at four straight when Toledo took a high-scoring game, 76-51, Saturday night. Toledo, which now has won five in a row, meets DePaul university Saturday night.

* * *

Wednesday night will see Heidelberg pair off against Akron university which has won three games while losing two. Akron's most recent victory was at the expense of Muskingum, the Zippers winning 36-31. Akron also has defeated Ohio Wesleyan and St. Bonaventure while losing to Niagara and Canisius.

* * *

The week's final game, also scheduled for Wednesday, sees Denison, with an even record of one win and one loss, meeting Ohio Northern whose record includes victories over Bluffton and Heidelberg.

Ohio State's Buckeye's, recovering after a formidable fray with final exams last week, will not resume formal practice until the day after Christmas when they will work out preparatory to their invasion of Rochester, Pittsburgh and University of Kentucky the following week.

The Buckeyes will enter the intensified phase of their schedule without the services of Dante Lavelli, sophomore guard from Hudson, O., who has been ruled ineligible because of scholastic difficulties. Lavelli was an end on Ohio's Big Ten championship football team.

* * *

Western Reserve resumed its winning ways last week, defeating Ohio Wesleyan 78-50 after losing to Syracuse 52-24 three days before. Ohio university ran its string of victories to three in a row by virtue of a 51-37 triumph over an invading Cincinnati university five.

* * *

Capital university, with four holdovers from last year's team which lost only one game, returns to the basketball wars Dec. 29, trying for its third victory of the season against Marietta. Capital last week revenged itself against Denison, the only team to defeat the Lutherans last year, by winning 30-47.

LYONS COMMISSIONED FIRST LIEUTENANT

NEW ORLEANS —(U.P.)— Ted Lyons ace Chicago White Sox pitcher, has been assigned to duty as a first lieutenant in the marines at Quantico, Va.

Lyons asked that he be assigned to aviation because "that's the outfit that gets things done and I want to help finish up this war so I can get back to playing ball."

He was sworn in at Chicago last week. His home is in Vinton, La.

FOUR ACE PASSERS APPEAR IN GAME

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— Four ace passers of pro football will be seen in action next Sunday when the National league's All-Stars meet the champion Washington Redskins at Shibe park.

Sammy Baugh will throw them for the Redskins, while the All-Stars will have Cecil Isbell, Green Bay Packers, Sid Luckman, Chicago Bears, and Tommy Thompson, Philadelphia Eagles.

GRIDDERS TRANSFERRED

GREAT LAKES, Ill. —(INS)— The breakup of the Great Lakes football team, hailed by sports writers as the nation's leading service team, was under way today with the transfer of Vic Marino, guard of Ohio State, and Gene Ball, blocking back of Duquesne, to a gunnery school at Norfolk, Va.

COLLINWOOD CAGERS WRITE TO SOLDIERS

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Once a week, during the regular practice period, the Collinwood high school basketball squad lines up at a table to work out with pen, paper and ink.

Letter-writing seems to have no place in cage practice, but Coach Harry Newman isn't forgetting the boys in the armed forces who made up his teams in other years. Sixty-four letter men are on Collinwood's honor roll to get letters from Newman's squad.

Collinwood plays at Mansfield tomorrow night.

Jack May Face Armstrong

Considered For Bout With Hammerin' Henry.

By JACK MAHON

NEW YORK — (INS) — Is Beau Jack another Henry Armstrong?

That was the $64 question along Jacobs Beach today as the pugilistic prophets reconvened to discuss the amazing rise of the little colored bootblack and his plans for the future.

Before going into this matter, he advised briefly that Promoter Mike Jacobs is seriously considering a bout between Jack and "Shufflin" Henry for Jan. 29. He has every intention of using Armstrong on that date against Ray Robinson or some other worthy opponent. If Ray isn't available, Jack may accept the assignment.

Such a match would afford the best comparison of the one-time triple title-holder and this latest perpetual-motion punching machine who last Friday night, ended a lightweight elimination tournament before it even got under way by knocking out Tippy Larkin of New Jersey in three rounds!

Robinson, originally paired with Armstrong, said he wanted no part of the match because he didn't want to hurt "his old friend, Henry." This statement, exaggerated or otherwise, irked "homicidal" Henry and his manager, George Moore, no end, and they burned up the wires with statements denying there was an brotherly love between the boys and expressing the hope they could soon prove it.

Robinson, interviewed at the fight Friday evening, said he would be happy to accommodate Henry at any time so the match may be made after all.

Mr. Jack, who a year ago had trouble getting club fights here, certainly demonstrated he is the best lightweight around today by flattening Allie Stolz, Newark, and Mr. Larkin in the space of five weeks.

Since these gentlemen shared the No. 1 ranking on the NBA list these performances would seem to establish the Beau as lightweight champion of the world until the NBA, or someone else, can dig up a contender to stand up to him.

Maybe Armstrong has come back. We wouldn't know, on this end of the circuit, but he'd better be ready for a tornado if and when he meets the Beau.

That's a fight we really would love to see. It would provide a human train wreck.

BOSTON BRUINS KEEP HOCKEY LEAD

BOSTON — (U.P.) — The Boston Bruins battled to a 4-4 tie with the Chicago Black Hawks Sunday night but maintained their National league hockey lead by two points over the Toronto Maple Leaf who trounced the New York Rangers, 8-2.

The Detroit Red Wings climbed into third place over the Hawks by virtue of a 4-3 triumph over the Montreal Canadiens.

BULLDOGS GREETED

LOS ANGELES —(INS)— Two-a-day drills for their Rose Bowl encounter with UCLA were on tap for the Georgia Bulldogs, due to arrive in Los Angeles today. An avid crowd of grid fans will be on hand to welcome Frankie Sinkwich and his 11 teammates at the depot.

The All-American "Bowl" Game

Series Gave Top Surprise

St. Louis Cardinals Voted Upset Champs.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The sports world furnished its share of the surprises this year, but the biggest came in the World Series, when the St. Louis Cardinals bounced back from defeat in the opener and whipped the highly favored New York Yankees in four straight games.

* * *

That achievement, coming after the Cardinals had nosed out the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National league pennant, was listed as the year's No. 1 surprise today by 39 of the 87 sports editors who voted in the annual poll of the Associated Press.

Twenty-two other voters placed the Cardinals second and 13 named them as third choice, giving the Red Birds a total of 174 points.

Closely behind came the Holy Cross football team's 55-12 upset over a Boston college team that had a perfect record and was favored by several touchdowns. Holy Cross collected 163 points.

Auburn's football upset of Georgia drew only four first-place votes but landed in third position ahead of the Washington Redskins, who dethroned the Chicago Bears as kings of professional football in the National league playoff. The Redskins got 31 points, compared with Auburn's 43.

Four Football Players Graduate

SOUTH BEND, Ind — (INS) — Four football lettermen and two track stars were lost today to Notre Dame along with 17 other athletes who were graduated at the 99th commencement exercises of the university which were advanced from next June by the wartime academic program.

The four football lettermen are Capt. George Murphy, South Bend; John Lanahan, Jacksonville, Fla.; Larry Sullivan, Brockton, Mass., who will report for marine office training at Paris Island, S. C., and Tom Brock, Columbus, Neb. The two track stars are Jay Gibson Mishawaka, Ind., sprinter, and Bob Vicars, Pontiac, Ill., javelin star.

Voted No. 1 Woman Athlete

Gloria Callen of Nyack, N. Y., pictured with some of the medals she has won through her swimming prowess, has been named the outstanding woman athlete of the year by a committee of sports writers. Miss Callen holds more than 30 swimming marks—even she, herself, is not sure of the exact number.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK—(AP)—It might be a humorous (in some quarters) development if some of the baseball club owners who are busy finding new training quarters because of transportation difficulties, etc., should learn that those long, expensive jaunts weren't necessary at all . . . There have been complaints at times that training under a hot Florida or California sun and then coming back to major league territory in mid-April didn't always produce the best results.

Scott had served for the past five years as president of the Southern association. Earlier this month, however, his contract was not renewed under circumstances which Scott at the time called "shocking."

When association directors met in Chicago this month, Billy Evans, for over 20 years an American league umpire, was named to succeed him.

HERSHEY BEARS WIN FOURTEENTH VICTORY

HERSHEY—(U.P.)—The Eastern division's pace-setting Hershey Bears racked up their 14th victory of the American Hockey league season Sunday night by scoring in very period to defeat the Indianapolis Caps, 3-1. The win boosted Hershey's margin to six points over Providence.

Pittsburgh trounced New Haven, 6-2, to move into second place in the Western division as the leading Buffalo Bisons maintained their two-point margin by clipping the Washington Lions, 6-3.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Cornering most of the American league 1942 hitting honors, lean Ted Williams, the 24-year-old Boston Red Sox outfielder now taking a course in naval aviation and considered out of baseball for the duration of the war, became the eighth player in the league's history to win the batting championship more than once.

Williams officially was tabbed today as champion with a .356—a 50 point drop from his winning .406 in 1941. His mark topped the .330 Ernie Lombardi of the Boston Braves posted to win the 1942 National league title.

Williams also led in these departments: 36 home runs, 137 runs batted in, 338 total bases and 141 runs. Chet Laabs of the St. Louis Browns was second best in homers with 27.

Official figures showed a considerable let-down in batting this year. In 1941 three men exceeded Williams' new .356 mark, and 16 finished with .300 or better, whereas only seven regulars made this group in 1942.

Aggregate team batting dropped from 266 in 1941 to .257. The Red Sox, powered by Williams and Johnny Pesky took the title for the third straight year with .276—seven points shy of their 1941 percentage.

In the league as a whole, home run output dropped from 734 in 1941 to 533.

Pesky also is in the naval aviation program, was runner-up in batting with .331, but excelled the champion in number of hits with 205. Pesky also led in sacrifices with 22.

Race Track Fans Aid War Benefits

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS)—Racing fans heartily endorsed the war benefit policy of Bay Meadows race track which closed a highly successful 57-day meet Saturday, figures on the mutuel handle disclosed today.

Virtually all the profits went to war benefit agencies. The fans wagered a record total of $14,711,543. The daily average was $258,097.

The play at the $50 and $10 mutual windows was greater than ever before in the history of the track, although the play at the $2 windows fell off.

Orange Street Leads Tourney

Thelma Linster Rolls High Total In Opener.

Orange Street Cafe keglerettes took the lead in the annual Mansfield women's bowling tournament yesterday with a total of 2,493 pins as the tourney opened at Colony alleys.

Ten teams took the alleys yesterday and ten more are scheduled to complete the team event Tuesday at 6 p. m.
